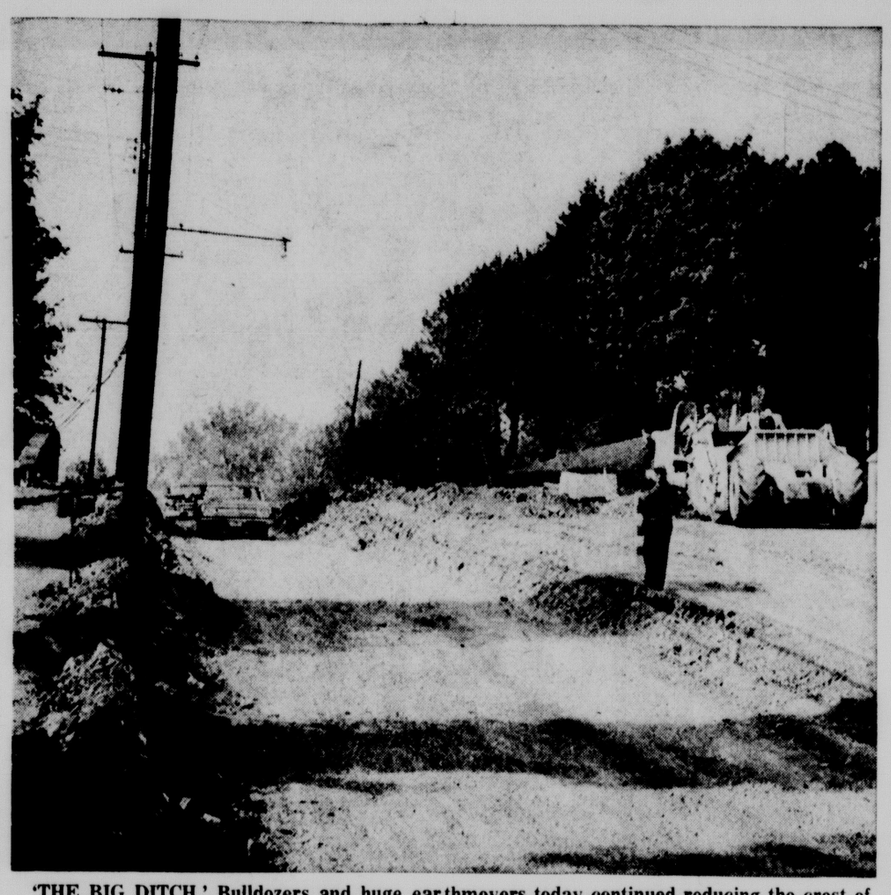
Paving Start Still Uncertain

St. Clair Job Progresses



'THE BIG DITCH.' Bulldozers and huge earthmovers today continued reducing the crest of St. Clair Ave. between Henry and Fisher Aves. in preparation for the start of paving of the 1-mile project next week. One-way traffic was in force as the large machines chewed into the shale and soil to lower the roadbed for an easier grade and improved visibility.

"I don't see how it could begin before the middle of next week at the earliest, and it possibly will be later."

This was the answer of Louis F. Wetzel, State Highway Department construction supervisor on the job, in response to a query today on the pouring of the first sections of the new 36-foot reinforced concrete pavement on the $785,788 St. Clair Ave. rebuilding program.

Heavy equipment of Herman Brothers, Inc., at Youngstown, the prime contractor, is working generally along the length of the job, preparing sub-base for the pavement and completing grading.

There were three big "high spots" along the length of the project that had to be cut down by grading. One is at the peak of the St. Clair Ave. grade, near Highland Colony, another is near the Riverview Cemetery entrance and the third is beyond Pond St. Work nearly is finished on the high spot near the cemetery entrance. The one near Pond St. already has been cut down and the sub - base is in place and being rolled.

From the standpoint of the money cost of the work finished to date, the project is 52 per cent complete, Wetzel said. The state pays the contractor in installments as the work progresses.

Wetzel said he is not certain now whether the eastern half or the western half of the pavement will be poured first. The state's specifications say that the contractor will pour one 18-foot-wide stretch for the full length of the job, then use it to maintain traffic while the other half of the roadway is poured.

The specifications indicate that the eastern half of the roadway will be poured first, with traffic being maintained on the right-of-way for old St. Clair Ave. Then traffic would be maintained on the new concrete while the western half of the road is poured, the specifications indicate.

Herman Brothers received the state contract for the project on June 10, 1964. Work started last fall, but was interrupted by the winter. The project resumed a few weeks ago.

Dominican Peace Seen Being Near

Rebel Spokesman Seeking Dismissal Of Junta Backers

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — A spokesman for the Dominican rebels indicated Wednesday that a settlement with the rival military-civilian junta may be near. But he held out for dismissal of some leading military men backing the junta.

"There's every reason to hope we are near a settlement," said the rebel foreign minister, Jottin Cury. He spoke after a conference between Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, the rebel leader, and two members of the peace commission of the Organization of American States, Ricardo C. Colombo of Argentina and Carlos Garcia Bauer of Guatemala.

Cury added that a peaceful solution depends on the dismissal of some key officers backing the junta. The rebels' chief target is Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, who led the resistance to the revolt.

Six of eight high-ranking officers removed by the junta in a peace move arrived in Puerto Rico aboard a Dominican navy frigate. But Caamano said previously their dismissal was not enough to satisfy him.

Latin-American diplomatic circles in Washington reported a broadly based interim government embracing both government and rebel leaders may be in sight. But Cury, speaking to newsmen, ruled out a coalition government.

He said, "Our objective is the restoration of the constitution," and that acceptance of a coalition "with elements from the other side would be a repudiation of constitutional objectives for which we have fought."

Cury said the junta has no legality or popular support "except that extended by the U.S. military."

Caamano told a news conference he would ask OAS permission to establish a corridor through the U.S. lines surrounding the rebel stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo.

U.S. Marines and paratroopers encircled the downtown area last week, and many armed rebels were cut off in northern sections of the city.

Caamano said he would go to the OAS with charges that U.S. paratroopers were sniping from vantage points across the Ozama River. He said one sharpshooter killed 22 Dominicans from a perch atop a grain silo overlooking downtown streets.

He also called on the OAS to make an urgent on the spot investigation to prove or disprove U.S. charges that Communists have control or major influence over his movement.

He added that he would accept the establishment of an inter-American police force in the Dominican Republic — a key element in moving toward a solution.

Car And Tractor-Trailer Hit

Woman Remains Serious After Mishap At Rogers

A 56 - year - old Rogers area woman is in "serious" condition at a Youngstown hospital today with injuries suffered when her car collided almost head - on with a tractor-trailer rig at Rogers late Wednesday afternoon.

Two student nurses at City Hospital also were injured in a mishap last night on Route 170 in another of a series of district road accidents, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

In the afternoon collision, Mrs. Dorothy Hill of the Rogers-Clarkson Rd. suffered fractures of the right leg and right arm and jaw, a possible skull injury, severe lacerations of the left arm and internal injuries.

Mrs. Hill drove from Grant St. onto Route 7, making a left turn, and went left of center into the path of the oncoming trailer truck driven by Kenneth Scott, 45, of Burgettstown, Pa., the patrol said.

Witnesses said Scott attempted to pull to the right side to avoid the crash. His rig jackknifed and struck a tree along the highway.

Mrs. Hill was pinned for several minutes in the wrecked 1963 sedan, but firemen and others pried apart the twisted doors and removed the victim, who was taken first to Salem City Hospital in the Negley firemen's ambulance, then was transferred later to Youngstown South Side Hospital. The mishap was timed at 4:45 p. m.

Mrs. Hill, president of the Rogers firemen's auxiliary, had just left the area of the firemen's festival which began last night. She is the widow of Joseph Hill, onetime highway department worker who died about two years ago.

Scott, driving for the Hemphill Trucking Co. of Burgettstown, suffered chest bruises.

The mishap occurred only two blocks south of the site where Walter Evans, 34, of Youngstown was killed May 3 when his truck smashed into a tree near the railroad crossing.

A delegation of women attended a Council meeting Monday night to urge increased police protection and safety measures on the heavily-traveled Route 7 through the village.

Colleen Gochenour, 20, of 7th St., Beaver, and Lynn Price, 18, of New Brighton, both student nurses at City Hospital, were injured when their car struck guardrails along Route 170, north of Fredericktown about 11:15 p. m.

Miss Gochenour is in "fair" condition today at the hospital with abrasions of the left knee, right foot and ankle. Miss Price, who was apparently thrown from the car in the impact, was treated for abrasions of the knees and left leg.

The patrol said Miss Gochenour was headed south when her 1953 coach veered off the right

Repeats His Offer For Viet Talks

Says It Would Be Clearly In Interest Of North Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the aim of Communist China "is to erode and discredit America's ability to help prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia," but "in this they shall never succeed."

Johnson threw down the gauntlet to the Red Chinese in a television-radio address on American efforts in Viet Nam. The President prepared his talk for a meeting with editorial cartoonists in the East Room of the White House.

Repeating his offer to engage in unconditional discussions designed to end the Viet Nam war, Johnson said this would "clearly be in the interest of North Viet Nam."

But he said "Communist China apparently desires the war to continue, whatever the cost to their allies."

"Their target is not merely South Viet Nam. It is Asia. Their objective is not the fulfillment of Vietnamese nationalism. It is to erode and discredit America's ability to prevent Chinese domination over all of Asia," Johnson said.

"In this they shall never succeed."

Johnson began by saying "the war in Viet Nam has many faces"—the first being the face of armed conflict, terror and gunfire. In this connection, he said:

"The Communists in Viet Nam are slowly beginning to realize what they once scorned

16 Vietnamese, 1 American Wounded

Heavy Contact With Reds Developing In Viet Town

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Heavy contact with a Viet Cong battalion developed today near the Mekong River delta town of Bac Lieu.

Latest reports said 16 South Vietnamese soldier and one American had been wounded. Sixteen Viet Cong were reported killed and 10 Communist weapons captured.

A U.S. spokesman said government forces were pinned down for an hour by heavy fire, but air strikes neutralized the Viet Cong positions.

About 30 Viet Cong dressed in Vietnamese marine uniforms staged a daylight attack on a textile plant five miles from Saigon, killing five persons and wounding four.

The guerrillas walked up to a Vietnamese marine guarding the plant at Thu Duc, 100 yards off the main Saigon-Bien Hoa highway. They entered the gate, then opened fire, killing five regional-force soldiers. The plant was attacked two months ago.

A U.S. Marine on guard duty at Da Nang Air Base was wounded in the thigh by a 13-inch long arrow, presumably fired by a Viet Cong hill tribesman. Helicopters often return from missions in the central highlands area with arrows handing from their fuselage.

No air raids on North Viet Nam were reported today.

The Saigon government charged today that Viet Cong forces from inside Cambodian territory attacked a Vietnamese village with mortars Wednesday. Four civilians were reported killed, 14 wounded and five houses set afire.

Sporadic military action continued today around Song Be, the provincial capital 74 miles north of Saigon. Sniper fire sliced into government positions inside the town early today.

A military spokesman reported another 20 Viet Cong and 15 government soldiers were killed in fighting around the town.

The casualties occurred in a clash Wednesday about a mile east of Song Be. Thirteen South Vietnamese soldiers and two U.S. Army advisers were wounded.

With these casualties, South Vietnamese forces had 57 killed and 91 wounded during two days of fighting at Song Be. A total of 95 Viet Cong bodies have been counted, but a U.S. officer estimated more than 300 were killed and from 300 to 700 injured by U.S. air strikes.

Five U.S. Army advisers were killed and 13 wounded during the Communist attack on the town Tuesday.

Ohio Senate Votes Sunday Liquor Sales

House Considers Bill On Preachers' Marriage License

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio House considered preachers today in a sharp turn from an unprecedented Senate session at which the sale of liquor on Sunday was approved.

House members were to vote on a measure permitting ordained ministers to obtain statewide licenses to perform marriages. Rep. Keith McNamara, R-Franklin, and others sponsored the proposal which provides for the licenses to be issued by the secretary of state.

Under present law, ministers obtain county licenses from probate courts and are limited to conducting ceremonies in their home counties.

The Sunday liquor bill cleared the Senate Wednesday, marking the first time in history such a bill has passed either house, although they have been introduced on numerous occasions.

The measure by three Cleveland Democrats and a Cincinnati Republican would permit, under local option, sale of liquor

Intruder Takes $640 From College St. Safe

Miss Frances McDermott, 614 College St., sister of the late Police Chief Hugh J. McDermott, reported to police Wednesday night at 6:30 that $640 was stolen from a small safe at her home by a thief who apparently used a key to open the strongbox.

Miss McDermott said the money apparently was taken sometime between Tuesday, May 4, and yesterday. It consisted of 32 $20 bills, she added.

Miss McDermott said the money was taken from a safe in the bedroom at her home. The keys were lying beside the safe, she added. Patrolman Karl Samples, who investigated, said there was no sign of a forcible entry of the home.

Ex-U.S. Flier Gets 30 Years As Soviet Spy

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Glenn Thompson, the former Air Force enlisted man who confessed to spying for Russia for six years, was sentenced today to 30 years in prison.

The 30-year-old Long Island service station operator bowed his head and closed his eyes when he heard U.S. Dist. Judge Walter Bruchhausen in Brooklyn say:

"The penalty prescribed is death or imprisonment for any term of years, or for life.

"The defendant was engaged during a period of six years here and abroad in undermining our national security. The consequences thereof are not readily determinable. It is clear that his criminal activities warrant severe punishment."

After that came the 30-year sentence.

Arrested last Jan. 7 at his service station at Babylon, N.Y., the 6-foot-2, 250 - pound Thompson pleaded guilty March 8 to conspiring with two former members of Russia's U.N. personnel to steal U.S. military secrets.

Vote Measure Okayed With Poll Tax Ban

House Judiciary Committee Action Cheers Liberals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval by the House Judiciary Committee of a right-to-vote bill that includes a total ban on poll taxes as a voting requirement in any election cheered congressional liberals today.

The committee acted Wednesday after rejecting, 19 to 13, an attempt to substitute the administration's compromise poll-tax approach accepted Tuesday by the Senate.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., 77, the committee chairman, led the fight against the administration amendment and carried most Northern Democrats with him.

Celler said the committee's voice-vote approval of the bill was overwhelming. He called it a good bill and predicted acceptance by the House.

Joe F. Burdett Dies At 55

West Virginia Official's Funeral Will Be Friday

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A funeral service is scheduled here at 2 p. m. Friday for West Virginia Secretary of State Joe F. Burdett who died Wednesday following a stroke he suffered six days earlier.

Doctors said the 55-year-old former gentleman farmer succumbed to a cerebral thrombosis, a blood clot on the brain.

Burdett, a veteran Democratic politician, was stricken the evening of May 6 while enroute to Kanawha Airport here to meet a friend. He was rushed to Charleston Memorial Hospital where his condition was listed as serious following a relapse he suffered last Saturday night.

Gov. Hulett Smith's office said Burdett would be buried in Charleston Friday after a funeral service at the Village Chapel, in the Kanawha City section of Charleston.

Smith ordered flags at the statehouse lowered to half-staff Wednesday upon learning of Burdett's death. He closed the Secretary of State's Office for the day and said all statehouse offices would be closed on the day of the funeral.

Smith called Burdett a "man who was dedicated to his job and served long and faithfully—and with distinction.

"He was always ready to work with all of us in state government — in every way he

President Proposes New Science Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed today the consolidation of the Weather Bureau and the Coast and Geodetic Survey to create a new agency to be known as the Environmental Science Service Administration.

He said the consolidation "will mark a significant step forward in the continued search by the federal government to meet the needs of the nation for environmental science services."

Not Seeking Expansion Of War

Johnson Making Moves In Viet As Need Arises

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is known to believe he has all the authority he needs to take any further steps he considers necessary in shaping future U.S. strategy in the war in Viet Nam.

As to whether the authority is adequate to cover a Korean-type conflict, with American troops engaged in large-scale ground combat, Johnson takes the position that he has more than enough, but that the question of ground war at present is hypothetical.

The President has emphasized to associates, officials said today, that he is not seeking any further expansion of the conflict but rather makes decisions as the need arises to move toward his declared goal of a peaceful settlement based on the security and independence of South Viet Nam.

Questions of presidential powers have arisen at various times as the United States expanded its role in the Vietnamese struggle. They were sharply focused in February when Johnson ordered air strikes against military targets in North Viet Nam and again this month when he asked Congress for a special $700-million appropriation.

The bombings began as retaliation for stepped-up guerrilla attacks in the South and have continued in an effort to slow the flow of arms and reinforcements from Communist North Viet Nam to Viet Cong guerrillas in the South.

Beyond these immediate objectives, the larger aim of U.S. strategy is to put North Viet Nam under such danger of destruction that its leaders will abandon their support of the Viet Cong and make peace.

Three months after the air strikes started, however, U.S. officials say they still have no indication from Hanoi of any interest in peacemaking on terms acceptable to the United States and South Viet Nam.

How long the conflict will continue at its present level is unknown and administration officials from Johnson down refuse to speculate on future developments.

NATO Averts Open Split On U.S. Policies

LONDON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization headed home a day early today after averting an open split over American action in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

In a communique issued Wednesday night at the end of their annual spring meeting, the 15 NATO allies agreed that "grave threats have arisen to international security and peace" in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, Malaysia and some African nations.

In the same paragraph they "reaffirmed the right of all peoples to live in peace under governments of their own free choice."

The statement represented a compromise between U.S desire for endorsement of its policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and French disapproval of those policies. Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew to London Wednesday to put the U.S. case before the Allied ministers at a closed-door session.

Rusk insisted on the passage defining the Viet Nam war as a menace to world peace.

Lunik Fails In Soft Moon Landing Try

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet spacecraft Lunik 5 hit the moon Wednesday night but apparently failed to make the expected soft landing that would have put the Soviet Union at least four months ahead of the United States in the lunar race.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced that the 3,250-pound spaceship landed in the area of the Sea of Clouds at 10:10 p.m. (2:10 p.m. Eastern Standard time), ending its three-day flight five minutes ahead of schedule.

"During the flight and the approach of the station to the moon a great deal of information was obtained which is necessary for the further elaboration of a system for soft landing on the moon's surface," Tass concluded.

Tass earlier had said that Lunik 5 would test for the first time elements of a soft-landing system. This was taken to indicate that the Soviets planned to land the spacecraft intact and that it would then radio back information from the moon's surface.

The landing report seemed the closest thing to an official admission to failure in the Soviet space program since the first Sputnik made its trail-blazing flight eight years ago.

By saying information was sent back only in the approach, Tass indicated that the spacecraft had failed to lower itself gently onto the moon. This is the next vital step before a man can be landed on the lunar surface.

Earlier moon shots by the Soviet Union and the United States have either crashed into the moon or passed by it.

Johnson Making Moves In Viet As Need Arises

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is known to believe he has all the authority he needs to take any further steps he considers necessary in shaping future U.S. strategy in the war in Viet Nam.

As to whether the authority is adequate to cover a Korean-type conflict, with American troops engaged in large-scale ground combat, Johnson takes the position that he has more than enough, but that the question of ground war at present is hypothetical.

The President has emphasized to associates, officials said today, that he is not seeking any further expansion of the conflict but rather makes decisions as the need arises to move toward his declared goal of a peaceful settlement based on the security and independence of South Viet Nam.

Questions of presidential powers have arisen at various times as the United States expanded its role in the Vietnamese struggle. They were sharply focused in February when Johnson ordered air strikes against military targets in North Viet Nam and again this month when he asked Congress for a special $700-million appropriation.

The bombings began as retaliation for stepped-up guerrilla attacks in the South and have continued in an effort to slow the flow of arms and reinforcements from Communist North Viet Nam to Viet Cong guerrillas in the South.

Beyond these immediate objectives, the larger aim of U.S. strategy is to put North Viet Nam under such danger of destruction that its leaders will abandon their support of the Viet Cong and make peace.

Three months after the air strikes started, however, U.S. officials say they still have no indication from Hanoi of any interest in peacemaking on terms acceptable to the United States and South Viet Nam.

How long the conflict will continue at its present level is unknown and administration officials from Johnson down refuse to speculate on future developments.

NATO Averts Open Split On U.S. Policies

LONDON (AP) — Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization headed home a day early today after averting an open split over American action in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

In a communique issued Wednesday night at the end of their annual spring meeting, the 15 NATO allies agreed that "grave threats have arisen to international security and peace" in Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic, Malaysia and some African nations.

In the same paragraph they "reaffirmed the right of all peoples to live in peace under governments of their own free choice."

The statement represented a compromise between U.S desire for endorsement of its policies in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic and French disapproval of those policies. Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew to London Wednesday to put the U.S. case before the Allied ministers at a closed-door session.

Rusk insisted on the passage defining the Viet Nam war as a menace to world peace.

Lunik Fails In Soft Moon Landing Try

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet spacecraft Lunik 5 hit the moon Wednesday night but apparently failed to make the expected soft landing that would have put the Soviet Union at least four months ahead of the United States in the lunar race.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, announced that the 3,250-pound spaceship landed in the area of the Sea of Clouds at 10:10 p.m. (2:10 p.m. Eastern Standard time), ending its three-day flight five minutes ahead of schedule.

"During the flight and the approach of the station to the moon a great deal of information was obtained which is necessary for the further elaboration of a system for soft landing on the moon's surface," Tass concluded.

Tass earlier had said that Lunik 5 would test for the first time elements of a soft-landing system. This was taken to indicate that the Soviets planned to land the spacecraft intact and that it would then radio back information from the moon's surface.

The landing report seemed the closest thing to an official admission to failure in the Soviet space program since the first Sputnik made its trail-blazing flight eight years ago.

By saying information was sent back only in the approach, Tass indicated that the spacecraft had failed to lower itself gently onto the moon. This is the next vital step before a man can be landed on the lunar surface.

Earlier moon shots by the Soviet Union and the United States have either crashed into the moon or passed by it.

Intruder Takes $640 From College St. Safe

Miss Frances McDermott, 614 College St., sister of the late Police Chief Hugh J. McDermott, reported to police Wednesday night at 6:30 that $640 was stolen from a small safe at her home by a thief who apparently used a key to open the strongbox.

Miss McDermott said the money apparently was taken sometime between Tuesday, May 4, and yesterday. It consisted of 32 $20 bills, she added.

Miss McDermott said the money was taken from a safe in the bedroom at her home. The keys were lying beside the safe, she added. Patrolman Karl Samples, who investigated, said there was no sign of a forcible entry of the home.

Joe F. Burdett Dies At 55

West Virginia Official's Funeral Will Be Friday

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A funeral service is scheduled here at 2 p. m. Friday for West Virginia Secretary of State Joe F. Burdett who died Wednesday following a stroke he suffered six days earlier.

Doctors said the 55-year-old former gentleman farmer succumbed to a cerebral thrombosis, a blood clot on the brain.

Burdett, a veteran Democratic politician, was stricken the evening of May 6 while enroute to Kanawha Airport here to meet a friend. He was rushed to Charleston Memorial Hospital where his condition was listed as serious following a relapse he suffered last Saturday night.

Gov. Hulett Smith's office said Burdett would be buried in Charleston Friday after a funeral service at the Village Chapel, in the Kanawha City section of Charleston.

Smith ordered flags at the statehouse lowered to half-staff Wednesday upon learning of Burdett's death. He closed the Secretary of State's Office for the day and said all statehouse offices would be closed on the day of the funeral.

Smith called Burdett a "man who was dedicated to his job and served long and faithfully—and with distinction.

"He was always ready to work with all of us in state government — in every way he

No End To Walkout In Sight

Denmark's Running Dry! Strike Closes Breweries

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — You can still get a beer in Denmark — but it isn't easy.

The Scandinavian nation today entered the 11th day of a strike by its 6,000 brewery workers with no end in sight. Which makes the foamy brew the chief topic of conversation in a nation of 4.5 million people who normally drink 3.5 million bottles a day.

You can get a beer in just a few places. One inn outside Copenhagen will serve you two but no more. In another, you can drink as much as you want — if you can find a seat at the bar.

The owners of these places were clever enough to hoard thousands of bottles in the week before the strike started May 2. One of them has enough beer for three weeks.

Other bars sell foreign beer at relatively high prices because they import it privately.

A private plane travels back and forth daily between southern Denmark and Luebeck, in north Germany, bringing beer to thirsty Danes who gladly pay 150 per cent more than the usual price.

The striking brewery workers have not tried to stop the imports.

If a Dane can't get beer, he'll even drink milk. The dairies gleefully report an increase of 10 per cent in sales, and there's even an occasional shortage.

The breweries are losing money and so are the strikers. The government so far has lost $3 million in taxes.

The strikers want a pay increase of 2 cents an hour. The brewers have refused to pay it and haven't said publicly what they are willing to pay.

Brewery workers now average $1.10 an hour.

$50,000 Action Filed As Result Of Mishap

LISBON — A suit for $50,000 for personal injuries stemming from a truck accident was filed in Common Pleas Court Wednesday by Henry A. Spack, 645 E. 4th St., Salem.

The Wilson Freight Forwarding Co. of Cincinnati and Dean A. Rex of Massillon are named as defendants.

Spack claims in his petition that on June 11, 1963, he was traveling east on Route 14-A in a two-ton truck and about 1.9 miles east of Washingtonville was preparing to make a left turn onto the Germantown Rd. when his truck was struck from the rear, causing him permanent injuries.

Something To Ponder In Cuba

One quick effect of sending U.S. troops to the Dominican Republic is being noted in Cuba. Havana is worried.

Castro's government, which had been showing signs of skittishness about its ties with the Soviet Union, is reported by observers to be making overt gestures of admiration for Moscow again.

The reason is obvious.

Those thousands of U.S. fighting men in the Dominican Republic are not only a symbol of U.S. determination to keep additional Communist regimes from taking root in this hemisphere.

They are a military force in being in the Caribbean Sea. They reached the Dominican Republic by passing close to Cuba, and if they leave they will go home the same way.

AS FAR AS the Castro regime is concerned, Cuba is now in the jaws of a potential military pincers, with a hostile military force at each end of the island, fully equipped with a superior naval force and air force.

If all this equipment surged into operation against Cuba, it would make even the theoretical plan for the Bay of Pigs invasion look like little boys playing war in a vacant lot. It would make the actual fiasco look like a farce.

And if something were to happen inside Cuba to distract the Castro dictatorship's attention—something like an uprising in Havana—the United States could find out once and for all just how much military hardware the Russians did not remove after the October 1962 missile showdown.

CUBAN COMMUNISTS could find out once and for all just how much help they could expect from Moscow if the United States barred the New World to Old World "colonization" by ideologists—the affront to the Monroe Doctrine that had not been clearly defined until President Johnson delivered his ultimatum—no more Communist regimes in Latin America.

Did he mean Cuba, too? Did he mean Cuban Communists?

Worry, worry, worry.

Poor Castro.

Where Do You Fall?

There's basis for fact in the Rev. E. C. Traylor's feeling that a change in attitude by some East Liverpool residents would be welcome.

His apprehension was expressed in a talk Tuesday to the Rotary Club.

It was triggered in part by derogatory remarks he had heard relative to the community and was balanced against what he called the great potential that exists in the area.

But in fairness, it should be pointed out that over the last few years it has been demonstrated clearly that more and more residents and more and more organizations are readily accepting the responsibility that goes with municipal progress. Much has been accomplished.

It may be that Rev. Traylor's analysis will stir revitalized thinking on the part of those who still haven't caught the upsurge fever. If it does, he will have performed a needed service.

When The Right Hand Knoweth—

Top administrative officials have been talking about cushioning the impact of higher Social Security taxes by further reductions in excise taxes.

They fear that if something isn't done to offset Social Security tax increases of upward of $5 billion, the national economy would be jarred off course. Therefore, additional shrinkage of excise tax revenue could be justified as a means of underwriting as much employment as possible.

This would be the ultimate application of the theory that government finance can be manipulated to keep the economy booming.

It would be at the same time the ultimate affront to those who believe the only safe policy for public finance is a balance between income and outgo.

Though the theory remains valid that tax reductions can accelerate the economy enough to make up loss of income if there were no acceleration, the fact remains valid that the theory has limited application.

It is like the fallacy about a lot more being better if a little is good. It doesn't work that way. A little more might be better, but a lot more might be disastrous.

In any event, the idea is under consideration.

What the left hand would taketh away, the right hand would restoreth. And unlike the right hand that doth not know what the left hand doeth, the right hand in this case would know all about the left hand.

Both belong to the new school of public finance that believes in using taxation and spending to shape the economy to its favorite doctrine—the Keynesian preachment that government had to encourage investment in new capital goods to keep things going; that budget - balancing merely stagnated the national wealth.

An Unhappy Note

There's an unhappy note each year when another school term comes to a close.

It concerns the veteran teachers who find it necessary to make the reluctant decision to answer the school bells for the last time.

Already, several in the district have announced that they will retire after having served as dedicated members of a dedicated profession for so many years.

Their memories can't help but be many —mostly pleasant, although undoubtedly spotted with some regrets.

Education will move on — as it always has and always will — but a certain sadness will be in the air at some schools next fall as familiar faces fail to appear when the time arrives to reopen desks.

To those who won't be back — sincere wishes and, sex notwithstanding, a heartfelt "Goodbye, Mr Chips."

Just Like Caesar's Wife

It cannot be imagined that a new presidential order which requires statements of financial interest from more government officials than ever before will make them as blameless as Caesar's wife was expected to be.

It can be imagined, however, that any requirement which puts jobholders on record about financial interests will make them cautious about soliciting or accepting favors—and that's to the good.

President Johnson has gone all the way to the Cabinet level with his order. It is assumed that he, himself, will comply with the spirit of the order, to set an example.

It isn't as if complete disclosure were being made, as one made voluntarily by a few public servants; all statements will be confidential. But the general effect is reassuring. The Johnson administration will get credit for caution.

There always will remain the problem of what to do with unscrupulous citizens who offer favors and force them upon public officials.

What is a crime punishable by heavy fines and prison sentences for public officials who get caught continues to be regarded as good business by people who make a point of pride of their power of persuasion over public officials.

The public officials who get caught lose their jobs and status. The private individual is likely to be given credit by his peers for possessing keen acumen.

Prescribed first rule for public officials: Beware of all constitutents who come bearing gifts.

Note The Accent

By Truman Twill

The British, as everybody jolly well knows, are big on class distinction.

But what everybody doesn't jolly well know is how easy it is for the British to do this, because of the way they speak the English language.

This is the main theme of "My Fair Lady," musical version of George Bernard Shaw's classic play, "Pygmalion." Eliza Doolittle can be transmuted from a guttersnipe into a lady by teaching her to speak like a lady.

Only recently has the British Broadcasting Corp. dared to hire announcers who talk like ordinary people. Previous practice was to insist on Oxford accents, because that was what most listeners expected from BBC spielers.

Eventually, thanks to the influence of broadcasting, class distinction based on accent will disappear among the British —about 1,000 years hence.

And let's not kid ourselves in the meantime that the same snobbishness does not exist in the United States.

SNOBS ARE making fun of Lyndon Johnson for what they call his "Texas drawl," though some of us find the drawl no harder to get accustomed to than his predecessor's "Harvard accent."

Critics had a high time with Dwight Eisenhower's mixed-up accents and haphazard syntax. Before that, they thought there was something funny about Harry Truman's Missouri high-pitched twang.

Northerners find it impossible to take seriously anything said by Southerns who make a point of "talking Southern," in the manner of Strom Thurmond.

New England accents grate on most ears, and it was a blessing radio was just coming along when we "kept cool with Coolidge" or we would have been holding our sides in mirth over his pronunciations.

Within seconds after a stranger starts to speak, we have catalogued him. We have mentally recorded the evidence of his geographical origin, his education or lack of it, his current state of existence and his personality.

Class distinction?

Snobbery?

Why do we kid ourselves? It's as bad here as it is in England.

The only difference is that in England, quick judgments are likelier to be accurate, because only an Oxford accent is proof positive.

Everything else is second-rate.

Truman Doctrine Remains U.S. Policy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maybe lots of people don't like to read what happened in yesteryears, and even some members of Congress would prefer to forget what their own government did in crises quite similar to hose that are happening today. But, by coincidence, former President Harry S. Truman had his 81st birthday a few days ago, and this occasioned a rereading of Mr. Truman's two volumes ot memoirs, certain pages of which outline American foreign policy in words that read as if they had been written in 1965 in relation to Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

David Lawrence

Mr. Truman was faced by a crisis in Greece and Turkey in 1946 and 1947. Both countries raised problems more than 3,000 miles away from our shores. The two nations were being challenged by Communist threats from within and without.

Isolationists emerged at the time in America to urge that the United States keep hands off. Mr. Truman, however, said to Congress and to a nationwide radio audience in 1947:

"I believe that it must be the policy of the United States to support free peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressures. I believe that we must assist free peoples to work out their own destinies in their own way."

On April 5, 1947, at a Jefferson Day Dinner, Mr. Truman declared:

"We must take a positive stand. It's no longer enough merely to say, 'We don't want war.' We must act in time—ahead of time—to stamp out the smoldering beginnings of any conflict that may threaten to spread over the world."

THE COMMUNISTS today have interfered in the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic as well as Viet Nam. In both cases, the existing governments indicated plainly their need of American help.

The United States was told by the Dominican government, for instance, that lives and property no longer could be protected. Obviously, the alternative was to mobilize an armed force from this country.

Mr. Truman had a similar experience when the Greek situation took a serious turn. He tells in his book what happened in 1947:

"Sizable guerrilla units had crossed the frontier from Albania. It appeared that they were aiming at the occupation of some larger communities that could serve as centers for a 'people's republic.'

"I called the secretary of the Navy and asked how large a part of our Mediterranean fleet he might be able to move to Greek ports.

"Secretary Forrestal informed me that it would be entirely practicable to have a large part of the Mediterranean squadron shifted on short order. He expressed a belief that such a visit would have some deterrent effect on the activities of the Communist guerrillas. . . ."

MR. TRUMAN didn't wait for the U.N. to act but he got support from Congress, which passed a bill authorizing aid to Greece. He writes:

"With this enactment by Congress of aid to Greece and Turkey, America had served notice that the march of Communism would not be allowed to succeed by default.

"The Communist rebels in Greece and their accomplices north of the border realized, of course, that the arrival of American aid would prove their undoing. They made every effort, therefore, to secure a victory before our aid might become effective. There was no doubt that the rebels were masterminded from the satellite countries."

Mr. Truman had his troubles getting support from the United Nations. An investigating commission of the U.N. had formally reported on June 25, 1947, that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia—Communist-bloc countries—had supported guerrilla warfare in Greece.

The United States proposed to the U.N. on July 29 a plan for aid to Greece and Turkey. This failed in the Security Council. The U.N. General Assembly on Oct. 21, however, passed it.

The United States at that time had a friendly majority in the assembly. It does not have that kind of backing today.

THE U.N. CHARTER itself permits collective action by individual members, and it was the trouble in Greece which led to President Truman's introduction of the Marshall Plan of Economic Aid to Europe and subsequently the proposal for the North Atlantic Treaty, which enabled the United States to furnish substantial military aid not only to the original signers of the treaty but also to other countries such as Greece and Turkey.

Neither the Marshall Plan nor the NATO treaty required any participation by the U.N. Both projects were regional arrangements, analogus to the Alliance for Progress, and the Organization of American States.

The objectives now are the same as were championed by the United States nearly 20 years ago. For what was known then as the "Truman Doctrine" has its counterpart today in the "Johnson Doctrine," which, in turn, is a logical sequel to the Monroe Doctrine proclaimed in 1823. Thus European powers coveting the territory of existing governments in Latin America were warned 142 years ago not to commit any acts of aggression in this hemisphere. This is still American foreign policy.

'I Didn't Know Pop Could Hot Dog'

A Look At What's Ahead For USW

By VICTOR RIESEL

PITTSBURGH

Silver-haired Dave McDonald, the labor leader best known to cafe society and the jet set, has just made one last bid for the government's help in his bitter-end efforts to keep the pivotal presidency of the big United Steelworkers of America.

Victor Riesel

In an undisclosed letter to Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz, the outgoing union chief asked that the Labor Department investigators make a swift check of a sample number of local unions in the election — which received almost as much publicity as the Johnson-Goldwater race.

Later, McDonald visited Mr. Wirtz and personally appealed to him. McDonald was politely turned down. Nor would the White House interfere.

Thus the presidency of this union changes leadership for the second time since the turbulent '30s.

WHAT ARE its new leaders like? Will they call a strike this summer? What do they seek for their million followers? How tough will they be on the embattled steel industry?

These are the questions the White House specialists are asking. These are the questions —the answers to which spell out prosperity or recession for the nation.

Will there be a strike? I asked this of the new president, I. W. Abel, a hard bargainer, a diligent man, a trade unionist, who is much like Walter Reuther without the latter's public flash or global sociological concepts.

"Not only do I hope not," Abel replied, "but I believe we will come up with a mutually satisfactory agreement much sooner than the Sept. 1 deadline. The important thing is to deal adequately with the key problems of wages and the updating of the pension program for earlier retirement."

Will he purge the national headquarters staff? There will be no "revolutionary changes right off the bat," he said with no grimness or threat in his voice. But certainly, he added, there will be "corrections" as we go along, but no great purges "as some people seem to anticipate."

MR. ABEL'S emphasis on pension was corroborated by another in the new troika leadership — Joseph Molony, a shamrock-voiced eloquent man who will be vice president.

His Irish wit, his mellifluous oratory will keep him out front, sometimes the gadfly, sometimes the clarion, but always loyal to his chief and tough on the steel industry.

On the second line of command with him is the quiet man, Secretary-Treasurer Walter J. Burke, who as a "working class intellectual" will be the inside man.

Molony sees the big push for higher pensions and earlier retirement. This drive will be in the direction of the gains made by the Auto Workers — $400 a month pension at 60 years of age. There is agreement that this will be the front line trench all summer long.

The steel industry says this could eventually cost hundreds of millions of dollars annually. The steel worker is older than most. His average age is 43. This puts many of them in their 50s and makes pensions more costly than in other fields.

IN ADDITION, Molony says the trio, which is tightly united, will battle for a bigger wage increase for the Steelworkers and a special hike for skilled workers. In the past the union has asked for a 10 per cent higher boost for the skilled men because they are not included in the incentive pay plans which cover two-thirds of the industry's hourly-rated employes.

Will there be any difference in bargaining with the steel executives?

There certainly will be. The trio plans "arm's length bargaining." The old "club" atmosphere, the intimate labor-management luncheons, dinners and fraternization will be junked. The night club circuit is out.

Instead of the confidential, "understanding" parleys of a handful of men, it was said, the new team will come in with the entire top union leadership as well as the technical advisers. The latter have been called middle class intellectuals.

Will they be fired by the new leadership?

"No, we have an even more frightening fate in store for some," Molony said. "We will put them to work. That's what the whole labor movement needs."

WHAT ABOUT the Labor-Management Human Relations Committee launched in the days when Arthur Goldberg was this side of the bench?

"It serves a good purpose," Molony responded, "and we welcome the intellectuals as consultants and advisers. But our dismay comes from the fact that the intellectuals we had had preempted the authority of the executive board. There was a vacuum into which those intellectuals moved.

"We have an able man in our new leader and that's no pun. We intend to fire no one. But we will assume leadership and bargaining and the technicians will be just that — technicians not leaders."

It does appear that the new troika will be a smooth, hard-driving team — and the reins will not be held by anyone outside the union.

American Freedoms

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON

America has so many freedoms that Americans are sometimes inclined to take them for granted.

One essential freedom is the freedom to move about, and who ever thinks about that?

One man who has given thought to it is Carl Madden, director of the Economic Research Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Madden, talking to a reporter, ticked off four points:

1. People are free to move anywhere they want to.
2. Industry is free to move where it wants to.
3. Money is free to move where it wants to.
4. All sorts of information is free to move where it wants to.

In sum, Madden said, the United States has achieved a remarkable freedom and efficiency of movement.

The picture has changed vastly since 1900, when almost three-quarters of all manufacturing jobs were locked in the Industrial Crescent that extended from New England through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the Great Lakes states to Chicago.

Now, in the 1850s, there is rapid industrial growth in the newer manufacturing sections — the Far West, the Southwest and Southeast. Madden pointed out this doesn't mean that industry has not grown elsewhere, in the old manufacturing regions, for instance. It is a question of where industry is growing fastest, with the national total growing all the time.

"A country which has freedom of movement for people, industry and money capital will grow at different rates in different sections," Madden said.

"Over a long-time period the difference between the rates of growth are likely to diminish but I don't think they will ever disappear. It would be impossible to imagine that economic activity would be uniformly distributed over the country.

"As long as the economy of the whole country is growing, all areas in some sense can win. With the long-time gains in goods and services nationally, even the relatively slower growing parts of the country can share in the growth.

"We find the per capita income in the Southeastern states is still below the national average but coming closer than a decade ago.

"The Northeast, which once had the highest per capita income, has given way to the Far West."

And maybe all this could happen only in America.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO—Pupils of the Rock Port School in Smiths Ferry enjoyed a hike to the Howard Fife farm near Ohioville.

A Young Men's Republican Club was organized, with Richard O. Wilson named temporary chairman and Donald Shay secretary.

"With this enactment by Congress of aid to Greece and Turkey, America had served notice that the march of Communism would not be allowed to succeed by default.

"The Communist rebels in Greece and their accomplices north of the border realized, of course, that the arrival of American aid would prove their undoing. They made every effort, therefore, to secure a victory before our aid might become effective. There was no doubt that the rebels were masterminded from the satellite countries."

Mr. Truman had his troubles getting support from the United Nations. An investigating commission of the U.N. had formally reported on June 25, 1947, that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia—Communist-bloc countries—had supported guerrilla warfare in Greece.

The United States proposed to the U.N. on July 29 a plan for aid to Greece and Turkey. This failed in the Security Council. The U.N. General Assembly on Oct. 21, however, passed it.

The United States at that time had a friendly majority in the assembly. It does not have that kind of backing today.

THE U.N. CHARTER itself permits collective action by individual members, and it was the trouble in Greece which led to President Truman's introduction of the Marshall Plan of Economic Aid to Europe and subsequently the proposal for the North Atlantic Treaty, which enabled the United States to furnish substantial military aid not only to the original signers of the treaty but also to other countries such as Greece and Turkey.

Neither the Marshall Plan nor the NATO treaty required any participation by the U.N. Both projects were regional arrangements, analogus to the Alliance for Progress, and the Organization of American States.

The objectives now are the same as were championed by the United States nearly 20 years ago. For what was known then as the "Truman Doctrine" has its counterpart today in the "Johnson Doctrine," which, in turn, is a logical sequel to the Monroe Doctrine proclaimed in 1823. Thus European powers coveting the territory of existing governments in Latin America were warned 142 years ago not to commit any acts of aggression in this hemisphere. This is still American foreign policy.

'I Didn't Know Pop Could Hot Dog'

When The Right Hand Knoweth—

Top administrative officials have been talking about cushioning the impact of higher Social Security taxes by further reductions in excise taxes.

They fear that if something isn't done to offset Social Security tax increases of upward of $5 billion, the national economy would be jarred off course. Therefore, additional shrinkage of excise tax revenue could be justified as a means of underwriting as much employment as possible.

This would be the ultimate application of the theory that government finance can be manipulated to keep the economy booming.

It would be at the same time the ultimate affront to those who believe the only safe policy for public finance is a balance between income and outgo.

Though the theory remains valid that tax reductions can accelerate the economy enough to make up loss of income if there were no acceleration, the fact remains valid that the theory has limited application.

It is like the fallacy about a lot more being better if a little is good. It doesn't work that way. A little more might be better, but a lot more might be disastrous.

In any event, the idea is under consideration.

What the left hand would taketh away, the right hand would restoreth. And unlike the right hand that doth not know what the left hand doeth, the right hand in this case would know all about the left hand.

Both belong to the new school of public finance that believes in using taxation and spending to shape the economy to its favorite doctrine—the Keynesian preachment that government had to encourage investment in new capital goods to keep things going; that budget - balancing merely stagnated the national wealth.

An Unhappy Note

There's an unhappy note each year when another school term comes to a close.

It concerns the veteran teachers who find it necessary to make the reluctant decision to answer the school bells for the last time.

Already, several in the district have announced that they will retire after having served as dedicated members of a dedicated profession for so many years.

Their memories can't help but be many —mostly pleasant, although undoubtedly spotted with some regrets.

Education will move on — as it always has and always will — but a certain sadness will be in the air at some schools next fall as familiar faces fail to appear when the time arrives to reopen desks.

To those who won't be back — sincere wishes and, sex notwithstanding, a heartfelt "Goodbye, Mr Chips."

Just Like Caesar's Wife

It cannot be imagined that a new presidential order which requires statements of financial interest from more government officials than ever before will make them as blameless as Caesar's wife was expected to be.

It can be imagined, however, that any requirement which puts jobholders on record about financial interests will make them cautious about soliciting or accepting favors—and that's to the good.

President Johnson has gone all the way to the Cabinet level with his order. It is assumed that he, himself, will comply with the spirit of the order, to set an example.

It isn't as if complete disclosure were being made, as one made voluntarily by a few public servants; all statements will be confidential. But the general effect is reassuring. The Johnson administration will get credit for caution.

There always will remain the problem of what to do with unscrupulous citizens who offer favors and force them upon public officials.

What is a crime punishable by heavy fines and prison sentences for public officials who get caught continues to be regarded as good business by people who make a point of pride of their power of persuasion over public officials.

The public officials who get caught lose their jobs and status. The private individual is likely to be given credit by his peers for possessing keen acumen.

Prescribed first rule for public officials: Beware of all constitutents who come bearing gifts.

Note The Accent

By Truman Twill

The British, as everybody jolly well knows, are big on class distinction.

But what everybody doesn't jolly well know is how easy it is for the British to do this, because of the way they speak the English language.

This is the main theme of "My Fair Lady," musical version of George Bernard Shaw's classic play, "Pygmalion." Eliza Doolittle can be transmuted from a guttersnipe into a lady by teaching her to speak like a lady.

Only recently has the British Broadcasting Corp. dared to hire announcers who talk like ordinary people. Previous practice was to insist on Oxford accents, because that was what most listeners expected from BBC spielers.

Eventually, thanks to the influence of broadcasting, class distinction based on accent will disappear among the British —about 1,000 years hence.

And let's not kid ourselves in the meantime that the same snobbishness does not exist in the United States.

SNOBS ARE making fun of Lyndon Johnson for what they call his "Texas drawl," though some of us find the drawl no harder to get accustomed to than his predecessor's "Harvard accent."

Critics had a high time with Dwight Eisenhower's mixed-up accents and haphazard syntax. Before that, they thought there was something funny about Harry Truman's Missouri high-pitched twang.

Northerners find it impossible to take seriously anything said by Southerns who make a point of "talking Southern," in the manner of Strom Thurmond.

New England accents grate on most ears, and it was a blessing radio was just coming along when we "kept cool with Coolidge" or we would have been holding our sides in mirth over his pronunciations.

Within seconds after a stranger starts to speak, we have catalogued him. We have mentally recorded the evidence of his geographical origin, his education or lack of it, his current state of existence and his personality.

Class distinction?

Snobbery?

Why do we kid ourselves? It's as bad here as it is in England.

The only difference is that in England, quick judgments are likelier to be accurate, because only an Oxford accent is proof positive.

Everything else is second-rate.

A Look At What's Ahead For USW

By VICTOR RIESEL

PITTSBURGH

Silver-haired Dave McDonald, the labor leader best known to cafe society and the jet set, has just made one last bid for the government's help in his bitter-end efforts to keep the pivotal presidency of the big United Steelworkers of America.

Victor Riesel

In an undisclosed letter to Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz, the outgoing union chief asked that the Labor Department investigators make a swift check of a sample number of local unions in the election — which received almost as much publicity as the Johnson-Goldwater race.

Later, McDonald visited Mr. Wirtz and personally appealed to him. McDonald was politely turned down. Nor would the White House interfere.

Thus the presidency of this union changes leadership for the second time since the turbulent '30s.

WHAT ARE its new leaders like? Will they call a strike this summer? What do they seek for their million followers? How tough will they be on the embattled steel industry?

These are the questions the White House specialists are asking. These are the questions —the answers to which spell out prosperity or recession for the nation.

Will there be a strike? I asked this of the new president, I. W. Abel, a hard bargainer, a diligent man, a trade unionist, who is much like Walter Reuther without the latter's public flash or global sociological concepts.

"Not only do I hope not," Abel replied, "but I believe we will come up with a mutually satisfactory agreement much sooner than the Sept. 1 deadline. The important thing is to deal adequately with the key problems of wages and the updating of the pension program for earlier retirement."

Will he purge the national headquarters staff? There will be no "revolutionary changes right off the bat," he said with no grimness or threat in his voice. But certainly, he added, there will be "corrections" as we go along, but no great purges "as some people seem to anticipate."

MR. ABEL'S emphasis on pension was corroborated by another in the new troika leadership — Joseph Molony, a shamrock-voiced eloquent man who will be vice president.

His Irish wit, his mellifluous oratory will keep him out front, sometimes the gadfly, sometimes the clarion, but always loyal to his chief and tough on the steel industry.

On the second line of command with him is the quiet man, Secretary-Treasurer Walter J. Burke, who as a "working class intellectual" will be the inside man.

Molony sees the big push for higher pensions and earlier retirement. This drive will be in the direction of the gains made by the Auto Workers — $400 a month pension at 60 years of age. There is agreement that this will be the front line trench all summer long.

The steel industry says this could eventually cost hundreds of millions of dollars annually. The steel worker is older than most. His average age is 43. This puts many of them in their 50s and makes pensions more costly than in other fields.

IN ADDITION, Molony says the trio, which is tightly united, will battle for a bigger wage increase for the Steelworkers and a special hike for skilled workers. In the past the union has asked for a 10 per cent higher boost for the skilled men because they are not included in the incentive pay plans which cover two-thirds of the industry's hourly-rated employes.

Will there be any difference in bargaining with the steel executives?

There certainly will be. The trio plans "arm's length bargaining." The old "club" atmosphere, the intimate labor-management luncheons, dinners and fraternization will be junked. The night club circuit is out.

Instead of the confidential, "understanding" parleys of a handful of men, it was said, the new team will come in with the entire top union leadership as well as the technical advisers. The latter have been called middle class intellectuals.

Will they be fired by the new leadership?

"No, we have an even more frightening fate in store for some," Molony said. "We will put them to work. That's what the whole labor movement needs."

WHAT ABOUT the Labor-Management Human Relations Committee launched in the days when Arthur Goldberg was this side of the bench?

"It serves a good purpose," Molony responded, "and we welcome the intellectuals as consultants and advisers. But our dismay comes from the fact that the intellectuals we had had preempted the authority of the executive board. There was a vacuum into which those intellectuals moved.

"We have an able man in our new leader and that's no pun. We intend to fire no one. But we will assume leadership and bargaining and the technicians will be just that — technicians not leaders."

It does appear that the new troika will be a smooth, hard-driving team — and the reins will not be held by anyone outside the union.

American Freedoms

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON

America has so many freedoms that Americans are sometimes inclined to take them for granted.

One essential freedom is the freedom to move about, and who ever thinks about that?

One man who has given thought to it is Carl Madden, director of the Economic Research Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Madden, talking to a reporter, ticked off four points:

1. People are free to move anywhere they want to.
2. Industry is free to move where it wants to.
3. Money is free to move where it wants to.
4. All sorts of information is free to move where it wants to.

In sum, Madden said, the United States has achieved a remarkable freedom and efficiency of movement.

The picture has changed vastly since 1900, when almost three-quarters of all manufacturing jobs were locked in the Industrial Crescent that extended from New England through New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the Great Lakes states to Chicago.

Now, in the 1860s, there is rapid industrial growth in the newer manufacturing sections — the Far West, the Southwest and Southeast. Madden pointed out this doesn't mean that industry has not grown elsewhere, in the old manufacturing regions, for instance. It is a question of where industry is growing fastest, with the national total growing all the time.

"A country which has freedom of movement for people, industry and money capital will grow at different rates in different sections," Madden said.

"Over a long-time period the difference between the rates of growth are likely to diminish but I don't think they will ever disappear. It would be impossible to imagine that economic activity would be uniformly distributed over the country.

"As long as the economy of the whole country is growing, all areas in some sense can win. With the long-time gains in goods and services nationally, even the relatively slower growing parts of the country can share in the growth.

"We find the per capita income in the Southeastern states is still below the national average but coming closer than a decade ago.

"The Northeast, which once had the highest per capita income, has given way to the Far West."

And maybe all this could happen only in America.

Bond Issue Action Slated By Fairfield

MIDDLETON—The Fairfield - Waterford School District Board of Education will meet in special session May 26 to determine the size of a bond issue for school construction projects to be placed on the November general election ballot.

The board Monday night set the meeting with Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, to determine the extend of the planned projects for which a $350,000 bond issue was turned down by 74 votes in 1964.

Tentative plans call for razing of part of the New Waterford School and construction of six additional classrooms and a cafeteria along with a new heating system plus renovation of the Fairfield School and a new heating system.

Whether or not an addition at Crestview High School will be included, as it was in the previous bond issue, is to be determined by the board.

In other action, the board approved a tentative contract with the Koch Motors Co. for two 66 - passenger Chevrolet school buses with Carpenter chassis at a price of $6,871 each, minus trade-in of $215 for a 1953 bus and $265 for a 1954 bus.

Koch was the lowest bidder on the buses. The state Department of Education will be asked to approve the proposed purchase.

The board approved a resolution endorsing the proposed community college for Columbiana County.

A list of 60 seniors scheduled to be graduated at Commencement May 28 was approved by the board.

Miss Bonita Leedy of Mansfield was hired as a speech and hearing therapist on a share basis with United Local District, replacing Mrs. Karen Young, who has resigned to be with her husband who has received a scholarship at the University of Denver.

Mrs. Rose Mercer of New Waterford was hired as cook.

The resignation of Mrs. Vertie Detrow, cook at the Fairfield School for 15 years, was accepted. She is retiring.

Contracts were granted to Gene Esterly, New Waterford custodian; Mrs. Vida Everett, parttime custodian at Fairfield; Mrs. Francis Taylor, head cook; Mrs. Rose Colella, cook at Waterford; Mrs. Carolyn Cobourn, cook at Fairfield; Alfred Cope, bus driver, and Alfred Costanzo, custodian at Fairfield.

Resolutions of appreciation were authorized for Wayne Rupert, former board member who contributed and planted shrubbery at the high school, and to the Fairfield Township Ruritan Club which donated a special switch for lights at the football field.

The 1965-66 school calendar of the county system was approved, with classes starting Sept. 6 and ending May 27.

Vote Bill

mittee voted to recommend passage of administration provisions to suspend literacy tests and authorize federal voter registration in much of the South.

"I think a bill of this character is epoch making," Celler said. "It's a tough bill."

In the Senate, a new and unsuccessful effort to limit debate caused concern and drew a tongue-in-cheek prediction from Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Mindful that 67 amendments remain to be considered by the word-weary senators, Dirksen ventured that before the measure is finally acted upon: "We will commune with the Halloween witches, eat our Thanksgiving turkey and trim our Christmas trees here."

The Senate refused Tuesday, by a four-vote margin, to accept an outright ban on poll taxes. Four states — Texas, Virginia, Mississippi and Alabama — require their voters to pay the taxes in state and local elections. The poll tax was outlawed for federal elections by the 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The Senate-approved administration compromise would enable the attorney general to go into federal court with a finding by Congress that there is evidence that the poll tax has been used to discriminate.

Wednesday, the Senate turned down an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to let federal courts in the South rule on state efforts to escape the terms of the voting-rights bill. The vote to reject was 62 to 28.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield failed in his effort to limit the time for considering the 67 pending amendments when Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., blocked the unanimous consent required.

2 Youths Hurt As Truck Hits E. 5th St. Pole

Two youths escaped with minor injuries late Wednesday afternoon when their truck struck a utility pole on E. 5th St. at Sugar St., police reported.

They are Wilford Allan Everson, 16, son of Chloris Everson, 1170 Pennsylvania Ave., and Joe Smithen, 15, son of James Buchanan of Dewey Ave. Ext., both released after treatment at City Hospital for contusions of the forehead.

Everson was identified as the driver of the truck, owned by the J. & M. Trading Post, 1170 Pennsylvania Ave. He said he was driving east about 10 miles an hour when the wheels hit an object in the street, causing the truck to veer and strike the pole.

Both sides of the truck's windshield were broken and there also was damage to the right front of the bed, officers said. The crash was timed at 6:45. Patrolman Karl Samples took the boys to the hospital in a cruiser.

Two vehicles were involved in a collision today at 5:05 a. m. at the blind intersection of Crook Alley and Drury Ln. in the downtown area.

The mishap involved a 1957 two-door sedan driven by David N. McCoy, 17, of 746 Minerva St. and a 1964 model truck operated by David Ronald Tice, 31, of 335 Imperial Dr.

McCoy was driving west in Drury Ln. and Tice was proceeding south in Crook Alley, offices said. There was damage to the left front fender and hood of the Tice truck. McCoy's auto was undamaged.

A mishap in Thompson Park at 8:32 p. m. Wednesday involved a 1961 sedan driven by Albert Earl Coy Jr., 23, of Wood Alley, Maplewood, and a 1957 sedan operated by Laura Snediker, 16, of 125 Beechwood Ave.

The rear bumper of the Coy car was scratched, but there was no damage to the Snediker car. The girl was cited to Juvenile Court for lack of an operator's license.

to believe: That we combine unlimited patience with unlimited resources in pursuit of an unwavering purpose."

The President summed up his determination by saying, "We will not abandon our commitment to South Viet Nam."

The second face of the war, he said, is the quest for a political solution.

"We know, as our adversaries should also know, there is no purely military solution in sight for either side," he said. "We are ready for unconditional discussions."

Johnson said "the third face of war in Viet Nam, is, at once, the most tragic and the most hopeful." He said it represents human need and the effort to develop the Vietnamese economy.

"People must fight for something," he said. "The people of South Viet Nam must know that after the long, brutal journey through the dark tunnel of conflict there breaks the light of a happier life. Only if this is so can they be expected to sustain the enduring will for continued strife."

Emphasizing that phase of his thinking, Johnson devoted the bulk of his address to members of the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists to present projects and future proposals for helping South Viet Nam develop its economy and care for its people.

The President again suggested that the United States will extend its aid programs into Communist North Viet Nam once peace is achieved.

Bond Issue Action Slated By Fairfield

MIDDLETON—The Fairfield - Waterford School District Board of Education will meet in special session May 26 to determine the size of a bond issue for school construction projects to be placed on the November general election ballot.

The board Monday night set the meeting with Robert Beatty, East Liverpool architect, to determine the extend of the planned projects for which a $350,000 bond issue was turned down by 74 votes in 1964.

Tentative plans call for razing of part of the New Waterford School and construction of six additional classrooms and a cafeteria along with a new heating system plus renovation of the Fairfield School and a new heating system.

Whether or not an addition at Crestview High School will be included, as it was in the previous bond issue, is to be determined by the board.

In other action, the board approved a tentative contract with the Koch Motors Co. for two 66 - passenger Chevrolet school buses with Carpenter chassis at a price of $6,871 each, minus trade-in of $215 for a 1953 bus and $265 for a 1954 bus.

Koch was the lowest bidder on the buses. The state Department of Education will be asked to approve the proposed purchase.

The board approved a resolution endorsing the proposed community college for Columbiana County.

A list of 60 seniors scheduled to be graduated at Commencement May 28 was approved by the board.

Miss Bonita Leedy of Mansfield was hired as a speech and hearing therapist on a share basis with United Local District, replacing Mrs. Karen Young, who has resigned to be with her husband who has received a scholarship at the University of Denver.

Mrs. Rose Mercer of New Waterford was hired as cook.

The resignation of Mrs. Vertie Detrow, cook at the Fairfield School for 15 years, was accepted. She is retiring.

Contracts were granted to Gene Esterly, New Waterford custodian; Mrs. Vida Everett, parttime custodian at Fairfield; Mrs. Francis Taylor, head cook; Mrs. Rose Colella, cook at Waterford; Mrs. Carolyn Cobourn, cook at Fairfield; Alfred Cope, bus driver, and Alfred Costanzo, custodian at Fairfield.

Resolutions of appreciation were authorized for Wayne Rupert, former board member who contributed and planted shrubbery at the high school, and to the Fairfield Township Ruritan Club which donated a special switch for lights at the football field.

The 1965-66 school calendar of the county system was approved, with classes starting Sept. 6 and ending May 27.

A special meeting will be held with the Columbiana, East Palestine, Leetonia and Lisbon boards of education May 20 at East Palestine to discuss a possible joint vocational school.

Vote Bill

mittee voted to recommend passage of administration provisions to suspend literacy tests and authorize federal voter registration in much of the South.

"I think a bill of this character is epoch making," Celler said. "It's a tough bill."

In the Senate, a new and unsuccessful effort to limit debate caused concern and drew a tongue-in-cheek prediction from Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Mindful that 67 amendments remain to be considered by the word-weary senators, Dirksen ventured that before the measure is finally acted upon: "We will commune with the Halloween witches, eat our Thanksgiving turkey and trim our Christmas trees here."

The Senate refused Tuesday, by a four-vote margin, to accept an outright ban on poll taxes. Four states — Texas, Virginia, Mississippi and Alabama — require their voters to pay the taxes in state and local elections. The poll tax was outlawed for federal elections by the 24th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The Senate-approved administration compromise would enable the attorney general to go into federal court with a finding by Congress that there is evidence that the poll tax has been used to discriminate.

Wednesday, the Senate turned down an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., to let federal courts in the South rule on state efforts to escape the terms of the voting-rights bill. The vote to reject was 62 to 28.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield failed in his effort to limit the time for considering the 67 pending amendments when Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., blocked the unanimous consent required.

2 Youths Hurt As Truck Hits E. 5th St. Pole

Two youths escaped with minor injuries late Wednesday afternoon when their truck struck a utility pole on E. 5th St. at Sugar St., police reported.

They are Wilford Allan Everson, 16, son of Chloris Everson, 1170 Pennsylvania Ave., and Joe Smithen, 15, son of James Buchanan of Dewey Ave. Ext., both released after treatment at City Hospital for contusions of the forehead.

Everson was identified as the driver of the truck, owned by the J. & M. Trading Post, 1170 Pennsylvania Ave. He said he was driving east about 10 miles an hour when the wheels hit an object in the street, causing the truck to veer and strike the pole.

Both sides of the truck's windshield were broken and there also was damage to the right front of the bed, officers said. The crash was timed at 6:45. Patrolman Karl Samples took the boys to the hospital in a cruiser.

Two vehicles were involved in a collision today at 5:05 a. m. at the blind intersection of Crook Alley and Drury Ln. in the downtown area.

The mishap involved a 1957 two-door sedan driven by David N. McCoy, 17, of 746 Minerva St. and a 1964 model truck operated by David Ronald Tice, 31, of 335 Imperial Dr.

McCoy was driving west in Drury Ln. and Tice was proceeding south in Crook Alley, offices said. There was damage to the left front fender and hood of the Tice truck. McCoy's auto was undamaged.

A mishap in Thompson Park at 8:32 p. m. Wednesday involved a 1961 sedan driven by Albert Earl Coy Jr., 23, of Wood Alley, Maplewood, and a 1957 sedan operated by Laura Snediker, 16, of 125 Beechwood Ave.

The rear bumper of the Coy car was scratched, but there was no damage to the Snediker car. The girl was cited to Juvenile Court for lack of an operator's license.

to believe: That we combine unlimited patience with unlimited resources in pursuit of an unwavering purpose."

The President summed up his determination by saying, "We will not abandon our commitment to South Viet Nam."

The second face of the war, he said, is the quest for a political solution.

"We know, as our adversaries should also know, there is no purely military solution in sight for either side," he said. "We are ready for unconditional discussions."

Johnson said "the third face of war in Viet Nam, is, at once, the most tragic and the most hopeful." He said it represents human need and the effort to develop the Vietnamese economy.

"People must fight for something," he said. "The people of South Viet Nam must know that after the long, brutal journey through the dark tunnel of conflict there breaks the light of a happier life. Only if this is so can they be expected to sustain the enduring will for continued strife."

Emphasizing that phase of his thinking, Johnson devoted the bulk of his address to members of the Association of American Editorial Cartoonists to present projects and future proposals for helping South Viet Nam develop its economy and care for its people.

The President again suggested that the United States will extend its aid programs into Communist North Viet Nam once peace is achieved.

Economic Paralysis Threatened

Dominican Businessmen Suffer Blow From Revolt

What do the people out in the provinces of the Dominican Republic think about the revolt in Santo Domingo? AP Special Correspondent William L. Ryan is touring the interior to find out.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PUERTO PLATA, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominican businessmen usually devote their undivided attention to profits and regard politics only as a means to that end. But they have been rudely jolted by the revolution that threw Santo Domingo into turmoil.

The capital had been far away from the breadbasket provinces. The businessmen were accustomed to violent changes of government, swiftly executed and accomplished in hours.

This time it is different. The coup d'etat of April 24 burgeoned into a situation that threatened to tear this little Caribbean nation apart. It has cost many lives. It has brought a massive intervention of U.S. troops. It has thrust the Dominican Republic into the midst of the global cold war. It has raised the specter of a revolution that might be seized by Castroists and Communists. It has brought Dominican soldiers face to face with the prospect of civil war and of firing on their brethren. It has generated havoc in an already ailing economy.

The businessmen are doing some soul-searching now. Over and over in the northern part of this little country one hears leaders of the middle class saying it is time they took an active part in politics.

But there are those who acknowledge this will not be easy. Dozens of businessmen here and in other cities of the north seem frightened.

The stalemate in Santo Domingo between the forces who call themselves constitutionalists and those who call themselves loyalists is threatening slow economic paralysis.

The businessmen as a rule are thankful that U.S. troops landed in enormous force, since that seems insurance against a Castro-like revolution.

But money is running short in the banks because of the paralysis in the capital. The tobacco industry in the agrarian north has been hit hard, and 15,000 workers face idleness because of lack of credit.

Businessmen in the cities are having difficulty meeting payrolls. For a week, many businesses in Santiago and other cities were closed. Gasoline became scarce and the price soared to $1.50 a gallon, a situation only gradually being eased.

All this has raised tension. It will grow as people become hungrier, businessmen acknowledge. Young, extremsit elements of the left are ready to capitalize on all this.

"Why die slowly?" snorted one young man, aching for weapons to add his own contribution to what he considers a blow for democracy by the rebels in Santo Domingo.

Such attitudes are not typical of all the young men. The violent, impatient ones seem to be in the minority. But as the frustration generated by the deteriorating economic situation and the chaos in the capital continues to grow, they are likely to attract more allies.

Despite the U.S. landings in Santo Domingo, North Americans seem popular among many of the young men. Crowds of them surrounded me here, in Santiago and in La Vega.

"We like Norte Americanos," said one, "but we don't need North American troops. What we need is food and clothing and money in our pockets."

The young men are the key to this country's future. As they have less and less prospect for money in their pockets, their potential for violence becomes large in a nation where violence is a habit.

The danger today appears to be much more economic than political. Much of the Dominican Republic is a powderkeg. It would not take much more than what is going on in Santo Domingo to ignite the fuse.

U.S. District Judge Requests Retirement

CLEVELAND (AP) — Judge Paul Jones has requested retirement from active duty from the U.S. District Court bench here Nov. 4, the day before his 85th birthday. After retirement, he will be placed in the status of a senior judge and will retain his office and salary but cease to try cases on a full time basis.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Daniel B. Wiles will begin June 1 in his new post as assistant vice president to coordinate public affairs for Ohio Bell in Cleveland and Northeastern Ohio.

Several Ohioans Urge Quick Action In Building Of Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Ohioans told the House Appropriations Subcommittee Wednesday that delay in construction of the proposed Lake Erie-to-Ohio River canal is a "waste the nation cannot afford."

Kenneth M. Lloyd, executive secretary of Interconnecting Waterway, Inc., Columbus, told the committee the canal would permit the free interchange of water-borne commerce between the Ohio-Mississippi River navigation system and the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway.

James P. Griffin, district 26 director of the United Steelworkers of America, Youngstown, said his district's membership has dropped from 65,000 to 50,000 and Pittsburgh-Youngstown steelmakers stand to lose at least an additional 20,000 to 25,000 jobs in the next 10 years unless the canal is constructed.

James H. Hurley, vice president of the North American Coal Co., Cleveland, said the canal would open up new markets for coal "because it would enable us to be competitive with other fuels." Hurley noted that 80 per cent of the coal mined in the United States comes from the drainage basin of the Ohio River.

The long-talked - about canal earlier this year was called feasible by the Army Corps of Engineers through Brig. Gen. W. P. Leber of Cincinnati. He estimated the cost at $1,025,000,000 with the federal government paying $940 million and other interests $85 million.

A private group opposing the project has estimated its cost at twice $1 billion.

Railroads for years have opposed the projects, as has the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce and the Upper Ohio Valley Association, a group representing rail and Pittsburgh area interests.

Economic Paralysis Threatened

Dominican Businessmen Suffer Blow From Revolt

What do the people out in the provinces of the Dominican Republic think about the revolt in Santo Domingo? AP Special Correspondent William L. Ryan is touring the interior to find out.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

PUERTO PLATA, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dominican businessmen usually devote their undivided attention to profits and regard politics only as a means to that end. But they have been rudely jolted by the revolution that threw Santo Domingo into turmoil.

The capital had been far away from the breadbasket provinces. The businessmen were accustomed to violent changes of government, swiftly executed and accomplished in hours.

This time it is different. The coup d'etat of April 24 burgeoned into a situation that threatened to tear this little Caribbean nation apart. It has cost many lives. It has brought a massive intervention of U.S. troops. It has thrust the Dominican Republic into the midst of the global cold war. It has raised the specter of a revolution that might be seized by Castroists and Communists. It has brought Dominican soldiers face to face with the prospect of civil war and of firing on their brethren. It has generated havoc in an already ailing economy.

The businessmen are doing some soul-searching now. Over and over in the northern part of this little country one hears leaders of the middle class saying it is time they took an active part in politics.

But there are those who acknowledge this will not be easy. Dozens of businessmen here and in other cities of the north seem frightened.

The stalemate in Santo Domingo between the forces who call themselves constitutionalists and those who call themselves loyalists is threatening slow economic paralysis.

The businessmen as a rule are thankful that U.S. troops landed in enormous force, since that seems insurance against a Castro-like revolution.

But money is running short in the banks because of the paralysis in the capital. The tobacco industry in the agrarian north has been hit hard, and 15,000 workers face idleness because of lack of credit.

Businessmen in the cities are having difficulty meeting payrolls. For a week, many businesses in Santiago and other cities were closed. Gasoline became scarce and the price soared to $1.50 a gallon, a situation only gradually being eased.

All this has raised tension. It will grow as people become hungrier, businessmen acknowledge. Young, extremsit elements of the left are ready to capitalize on all this.

"Why die slowly?" snorted one young man, aching for weapons to add his own contribution to what he considers a blow for democracy by the rebels in Santo Domingo.

Such attitudes are not typical of all the young men. The violent, impatient ones seem to be in the minority. But as the frustration generated by the deteriorating economic situation and the chaos in the capital continues to grow, they are likely to attract more allies.

Despite the U.S. landings in Santo Domingo, North Americans seem popular among many of the young men. Crowds of them surrounded me here, in Santiago and in La Vega.

"We like Norte Americanos," said one, "but we don't need North American troops. What we need is food and clothing and money in our pockets."

The young men are the key to this country's future. As they have less and less prospect for money in their pockets, their potential for violence becomes large in a nation where violence is a habit.

The danger today appears to be much more economic than political. Much of the Dominican Republic is a powderkeg. It would not take much more than what is going on in Santo Domingo to ignite the fuse.

U.S. District Judge Requests Retirement

CLEVELAND (AP) — Judge Paul Jones has requested retirement from active duty from the U.S. District Court bench here Nov. 4, the day before his 85th birthday. After retirement, he will be placed in the status of a senior judge and will retain his office and salary but cease to try cases on a full time basis.

Wiles To Begin Duties As Ohio Bell Official

CLEVELAND (AP) — Daniel B. Wiles will begin June 1 in his new post as assistant vice president to coordinate public affairs for Ohio Bell in Cleveland and Northeastern Ohio.

Wiles, appointed Wednesday, is past president of the Rotary Club of Cleveland and past president of the Cleveland Convention and Visitors' Bureau.

Several Ohioans Urge Quick Action In Building Of Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Ohioans told the House Appropriations Subcommittee Wednesday that delay in construction of the proposed Lake Erie-to-Ohio River canal is a "waste the nation cannot afford."

Kenneth M. Lloyd, executive secretary of Interconnecting Waterway, Inc., Columbus, told the committee the canal would permit the free interchange of water-borne commerce between the Ohio-Mississippi River navigation system and the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway.

James P. Griffin, district 26 director of the United Steelworkers of America, Youngstown, said his district's membership has dropped from 65,000 to 50,000 and Pittsburgh-Youngstown steelmakers stand to lose at least an additional 20,000 to 25,000 jobs in the next 10 years unless the canal is constructed.

James H. Hurley, vice president of the North American Coal Co., Cleveland, said the canal would open up new markets for coal "because it would enable us to be competitive with other fuels." Hurley noted that 80 per cent of the coal mined in the United States comes from the drainage basin of the Ohio River.

The long-talked - about canal earlier this year was called feasible by the Army Corps of Engineers through Brig. Gen. W. P. Leber of Cincinnati. He estimated the cost at $1,025,000,000 with the federal government paying $940 million and other interests $85 million.

A private group opposing the project has estimated its cost at twice $1 billion.

Railroads for years have opposed the projects, as has the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce and the Upper Ohio Valley Association, a group representing rail and Pittsburgh area interests.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm not trying to pass myself off as a perfect wife. I have my faults the same as anyone else. But I'm not simple - minded and I do have my pride.

My husband is very fussy about what I pack for his lunch. I try to send him off every day with a bucket that is nourishing and tasty.

Several weeks ago I forgot to put mustard on his pastrami sandwiches and the way that man carried on you would have thought I had tried to poison him. Now he pulls the lunches apart and checks. Then I have to put everything back together and repack it.

He hasn't found anything to complain about since the mustard incident but he keeps tearing up his lunches just to make me feel inferior. Of course I get mad and yell at him and he yells back and we start off every day with a fight. How can this be stopped? — SUB-NORMAL.

Dear S-N: Tell your husband you will write a list of everything you plan to put in his lunch bucket and that you will check it off as it goes in. Then he can look at the list and leave the lunch alone.

Some wives don't want to put a lunch together once, let alone twice. It's inconsiderate of him to double your work.

Advice Stands

Dear Ann: I'm writing in regard to "Rattled Robert" — the boy whose father insists that he make business calls on the telephone.

The boy is supposed to find the number and get the party on the line. Then his father comes to the phone. The boy said he hated to do it and asked you if it was fair. You said, "Yes. It's fair, and it's also good training."

I'm 14, too, and I know how this kid must feel. Foolish is the only word I can think of. I agree it might be good training but I don't think the man should train his son at the expense of business people. Also, if the boy can't think of anything to say the father should tell him. —ANOTHER RATTLED TEENAGER.

Dear Rattled One: Many adults, as well as teens, wrote to gripe about my advice. I even heard from a telephone company supervisor who said it was not "good manners to impose children on business associates."

Sorry, friends, but a 14-year-old is no child. A 14-year-old should be able to say, "Good evening, Mr. Swanson. This is Robert Klienpell. I'm calling for my father. Will you hold on for just a moment, please?"

The father should take over instantly and not expect the boy to make small talk with Mr. Swanson. I should have made this point clear in my advice.

Mismating Urge

Dear Ann: I never thought I'd have to write to you but my husband has a habit that is driving me to distraction.

Jake works the late shift. He leaves for work at 11:20 p.m. Every night as he walks out the door he says, " 'By, Honey. Go to bed."

Where else does he think I could go at that hour? Every time he says that dumb farewell I feel like knocking his head off. How can I get him to break the habit? — SCREAMING MIMI.

Dear Mimi: You'll never get him to break the habit but you can reduce your own irritability by having a different reply for him every night — and the nuttier the better.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Rights Leaders Say Negroes Lost Jobs, Records Say 'No'

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil-rights leaders say scores of Negroes have lost their jobs in Selma because they took part in right-to-vote demonstrations.

But employment records don't show it. In fact, says the State Employment Service, jobs are going begging in almost every classification.

"Suppose 200 Negroes have been fired as they claim," says Monroe Quinney, manager of the employment service office. "There are enough other jobs available to take care of a substantial number of them."

But, he added, "the number of applicants is decreasing and we can't fill the jobs."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has charged that white employers have laid off some 200 Negro workers because of their civil-rights activity. He also said that many of them are without food and clothing.

A Federal Community Relations Service spokesman, Fred Miller, says he has the names of the 180 Negroes who say they were fired because of the street demonstrations which became almost a daily occurrence in the first weeks of the right-to-vote struggle.

City officials say they have received similar complaints. During a recent conference, Negro leaders produced the names of 50 unemployed workers. The City Council declined to accept the list until it also included names of the former employers.

Miller says most of the complaints he has received come from maids, cooks and other domestic help. Quinney says his office has requests from white housewives anxious to hire domestics.

It may be, of course, explained the employment service manager, that jobless Negroes are looking for work through other channels instead of registering with his office. He added that a housewife who has fired her maid or cook may have hired another Negro to take her place.

"We had a lot of complaints of absenteeism during the height of the demonstrations," Quinney continued, "and it may well be that women who have to have a maid — especially mothers who work — refused to take then back after they had been off for several days."

He added that some merchants have had to let employes go because Negroes are boycotting white stores and business has fallen off.

In April 1964, Quinney said, the employment service received 253 new applications from men and women looking for work. Last month, the figure dropped to 186.

Dear Ann: I never thought I'd have to write to you but my husband has a habit that is driving me to distraction.

Jake works the late shift. He leaves for work at 11:20 p.m. Every night as he walks out the door he says, " 'By, Honey. Go to bed."

Where else does he think I could go at that hour? Every time he says that dumb farewell I feel like knocking his head off. How can I get him to break the habit? — SCREAMING MIMI.

Dear Mimi: You'll never get him to break the habit but you can reduce your own irritability by having a different reply for him every night — and the nuttier the better.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Rights Leaders Say Negroes Lost Jobs, Records Say 'No'

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — Civil-rights leaders say scores of Negroes have lost their jobs in Selma because they took part in right-to-vote demonstrations.

But employment records don't show it. In fact, says the State Employment Service, jobs are going begging in almost every classification.

"Suppose 200 Negroes have been fired as they claim," says Monroe Quinney, manager of the employment service office. "There are enough other jobs available to take care of a substantial number of them."

But, he added, "the number of applicants is decreasing and we can't fill the jobs."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. has charged that white employers have laid off some 200 Negro workers because of their civil-rights activity. He also said that many of them are without food and clothing.

A Federal Community Relations Service spokesman, Fred Miller, says he has the names of the 180 Negroes who say they were fired because of the street demonstrations which became almost a daily occurrence in the first weeks of the right-to-vote struggle.

City officials say they have received similar complaints. During a recent conference, Negro leaders produced the names of 50 unemployed workers. The City Council declined to accept the list until it also included names of the former employers.

Miller says most of the complaints he has received come from maids, cooks and other domestic help. Quinney says his office has requests from white housewives anxious to hire domestics.

It may be, of course, explained the employment service manager, that jobless Negroes are looking for work through other channels instead of registering with his office. He added that a housewife who has fired her maid or cook may have hired another Negro to take her place.

"We had a lot of complaints of absenteeism during the height of the demonstrations," Quinney continued, "and it may well be that women who have to have a maid — especially mothers who work — refused to take them back after they had been off for several days."

He added that some merchants have had to let employes go because Negroes are boycotting white stores and business has fallen off.

In April 1964, Quinney said, the employment service received 253 new applications from men and women looking for work. Last month, the figure dropped to 186.

Dear Heloise: When I make spaghetti sauce, I usually triple my recipe, since I also use this same sauce for hot dogs.

After the sauce cools, I pour it into ice cube trays and freeze it. Then I remove the cubs and put them into a plastic bag and place in my freezer.

Now, I can have individual sauce for two hot dogs, or spaghetti dinner without any trouble.

DEAR HELOISE: Just how can I rejuvenate a cedar closet that has lost its umph? My wife is hipped on this subject, and I need your help to make her happy.

C.H.

-:-

Why don't you rent an electric belt sander and sand the closet? This usually does the job. Besides it will be nice and clean again and have that light color like it did when it was new.

An easier method is to go to a hardware store and ask for oil of cedar and paint the closet. Follow directions on container.

Hope this makes your wife happy.

DEAR HELOISE: Just a hint for those who have trouble with their dress belts slipping up and down.

When I find that something I'm ironing, such as a shirt or curtains, etc., begins to slip off my ironing board before I have finished ironing it, I take a large safety or straight pin and use it to anchor the article.

For example, if I'm ironing a shirt and have finished the collar and the sleeves and am ironing one of the front sides, which keeps slipping off the board due to the weight of the rest of the shirt, I stick the pin through the shirt, board cover and pad at the arm-hole seam.

SOME TYPES of curtains will slip away, so whichever end I begin ironing I stick a pin at each corner, at an angle, so that I can iron over the pins, then remove them and continue ironing the rest of the curtain. When I come to the other end of the curtain I use the pins again.

There also are times when I take my wash to a coin-operated laundry, and when I do, I take my clothes sprinkler and dampen my ironing right there!

could — to help the people of West Virginia," Smith said.

Under state law, Smith can appoint an interim Secretary of State to serve until a candidate is elected in November, 1966 to fill Burdett's unexpired term which ends in January, 1969.

Burdett was a native of Frankfort, Ky., but was raised on a Mason County farm near Point Pleasant. He graduated from West Virginia University in 1933 with a degree in business administration and joined the staff of the State Auditor's Office three years later.

After 13 years in the land department of the Auditor's office, excluding a hitch in the Navy, he was appointed to the old Board of Control by former Gov. Okey L. Patteson in 1949.

Earlier, Burdett had made two unsuccessful attempts to be elected Agriculture Commissioner.

He served on the Board of Control—the duties of which are now divided between Public Institutions and the Mental Health Department — for six years before resigning.

Burdett's resignation came in 1955 after he and former Gov. William Marland failed to meet eye-to-eye as to whether Burdett should seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Burdett was the first candidate to file in the 1956 governor's race, but was defeated for the nomination by Robert H. Mollohan, who later lost to former Gov. Cecil H. Underwood.

After two years as assistant State Treasurer, Burdett once again resigned in 1959 to seek the remaining two years of the unexpired term of former Secretary of State D. Pitt O'Brien, who died in office. Burdett defeated Republican Mrs. Helen Holt of Weston in a special election and was reelected in 1960 and again in 1964.

At the time of his death he was one of the most influential members of Smith's administration, and one of the dominate forces on the State Board of Public Works.

He is survived by his wife, the former Virginia Shonk of Charleston; and three children, Mrs. Robert Cartwright of Ithaca, N. Y. and twin sons, Joe Jr. and Jack, both living at home.

between the hours of 1 p.m. and 12 midnight on Sunday.

Sen. David T. Matia, D-Cuyahoga, led the floor fight for the bill which drew heated debate before receiving a 17-15 vote, the exact minimum needed for passage.

Matia and other sponsors argued the measure is needed to attract convention business, much of which they said is going to other states, such as New York, California and Pennsylvania, which permit liquor sales on Sunday.

Sens. Oakley C. Collins, R-Stark, and Robin Turner, R-Seneca, were the chief opponents. They claimed the people of Ohio are satisfied with present liquor laws and have not asked for "another day to drink."

The bill now goes to the rural-minded House, where its chances appear somewhat bleak.

The Senate, in other business, approved a House - passed measure designed to expand Ohio's college student loan program. It would extend to state-chartered building and loan firms and credit unions the authority to grant state-guaranteed loans to students. At present, such authority is restricted to banks.

Also passed by the upper chamber was a measure permitting 18-year-olds to take examinations for fire and police department positions. Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-Hamilton, said the bill would leave unchanged the requirement that new policemen and firemen must be 21 before they actually are employed.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing use of reflectorized strips on the rear of horse-drawn vehicles along with a red light.

Seven bewhiskered Amish men looked on from the House gallery as the measure received a 128-1 vote. Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, was the dissenter.

A measure authorizing Toledo, Akron, and Cincinnati to issue bonds and short-term notes for construction projects received 124-3 House approval.

Also approved by the House was a measure asking Congress to authorize acquisition by the state of the Broadview Heights Veterans Administration Hospital near Cleveland for use as a hospital for mentally retarded children.

House members voted also to authorize forfeiture of cemetery lots on which upkeep has not been paid for 21 years and to place in the state's general fund about $50,000 a year now going into the aviation license fund from airplane license fees.

Sen. David T. Matia, D-Cuyahoga, led the floor fight for the bill which drew heated debate before receiving a 17-15 vote, the exact minimum needed for passage.

Matia and other sponsors argued the measure is needed to attract convention business, much of which they said is going to other states, such as New York, California and Pennsylvania, which permit liquor sales on Sunday.

Sens. Oakley C. Collins, R-Stark, and Robin Turner, R-Seneca, were the chief opponents. They claimed the people of Ohio are satisfied with present liquor laws and have not asked for "another day to drink."

The bill now goes to the rural-minded House, where its chances appear somewhat bleak.

The Senate, in other business, approved a House - passed measure designed to expand Ohio's college student loan program. It would extend to state-chartered building and loan firms and credit unions the authority to grant state-guaranteed loans to students. At present, such authority is restricted to banks.

Also passed by the upper chamber was a measure permitting 18-year-olds to take examinations for fire and police department positions. Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-Hamilton, said the bill would leave unchanged the requirement that new policemen and firemen must be 21 before they actually are employed.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing use of reflectorized strips on the rear of horse-drawn vehicles along with a red light.

Seven bewhiskered Amish men looked on from the House gallery as the measure received a 128-1 vote. Rep. Charles F. Kurfess, R-Wood, was the dissenter.

A measure authorizing Toledo, Akron, and Cincinnati to issue bonds and short-term notes for construction projects received 124-3 House approval.

Also approved by the House was a measure asking Congress to authorize acquisition by the state of the Broadview Heights Veterans Administration Hospital near Cleveland for use as a hospital for mentally retarded children.

House members voted also to authorize forfeiture of cemetery lots on which upkeep has not been paid for 21 years and to place in the state's general fund about $50,000 a year now going into the aviation license fund from airplane license fees.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Carson At The Table

Johnny Carson, who has a considerable reputation in show biz circles as a toastmaster and after-dinner cutup, will step into this role on nationwide television in an hour-long special being planned by NBC for later his year.

Richard Doan

The vehicle will be a specially arranged Friars Club "roast," an annual dinner at which this fraternal organization of entertainment people puts a show business celebrity on the pan as "man of the year."

-:-

CARSON was the recipient of this distinction on April 24. He previously had emceed these affairs.

The idea of turning TV cameras on a Friars "roast" is not entirely new. It was tried out a number of years ago on CBS by Ed Sullivan, with the aid of comedy writer Nat Hiken, but did not come off as well as hoped for.

By coincidence, the forthcoming NBC special will be produced by Marlo Lewis, once producer of the Ed Sullivan variety shows.

The Friars affair features a long dais studded with veteran comedians — the like of Milton Berle, who is an "abbot emeritus" of the club — poking fun at the honored guest.

The Friars came into being in 1903 as a press agents' club. It now has a membership stipulation that 70 per cent of its roster must be professional entertainment people.

-:-

THE CARSON FRIARS show will be the "Tonight" host's first billing as star of a prime-time NBC special.

If it clicks, the network can be expected to make the idea an annual event. Present plans are to schedule the forthcoming show in late November or early December.

Edwin Friendly Jr., vice president for NBC-TV special programs, also has disclosed plans for an annual hour in color featuring the Ringling Brothers & Barnum & Bailey Circus.

The big top show, which recently closed its annual Madison Square Garden run in New York, has signed a contract with NBC calling for five annual TV specials.

Each year, Friendly reported, at some point during the circus' tour, a special performance will be taped of the show's new production numbers and animal acts. A celebrity emcee, yet to be chosen, will introduce the acts.

No date has been set for the first "Best of Ringling Bros." special.

-:-

"PEYTON PLACE," ABC's successful transplanting of soap opera to nighttime television, could be responsible for a major revolution in summertime TV.

Relatively few viewers are yet aware that "Peyton Place" will continue through the summer with fresh episodes — for the simple reason that reruns are impossible in a continuously unfolding serial.

If prime - time soap opera should become the rage — and it certainly is going to be tried —the present pattern of rerun fare during the hot months may be affected seriously.

There will be, of course, two concurrent tests of how well continuing serialized drama can pull summer ratings compared with repeats.

CBS recently launched "Our Private World," a spinoff of the daytime "As the World Turns," on a 19-week frankly experimental run.

-:-

"PEYTON PLACE" is now an ABC fixture, regardless of how well it does this summer, but the network's programmers are gambling that its sponsors will find "the payout" justified on a 52-week basis. The twice-weekly drama will need to make a better showing than the reruns.

The only obvious alternative to running an evening soap opera on a year-'round basis would be simply to take it off the air for the summer and substitute an inexpensive hot weather series.

The 20th Century-Fox producers of the ABC serial have anticipated the need to make a strong summer showing and already have shot sequences featuring the teen-agers of the cast in heightened action for the months ahead on the theory that attracting vacationing adolescents to the show could bolster the ratings.

If the try succeeds, the rerun doldrums could be alleviated by a little fresh sweat and agony.

Spring Cleanup Drive To Wind Up Friday

The trucks will make rounds on these streets:

Morton St., Avondale St., Cadmus St., Sophia St., Daisy Alley, McKinnon Ave., Oak St., Riverview St., Perry Ave., North St., Pope Ave., Montgomery Ave. and Jennings Ave.

Rep. Lindsay To Seek New York Mayor Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. John V. Lindsay, supported by top Republican leaders, was expected to announce today his candidacy for mayor against three-time Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in next November's election.

Lindsay, 43, a native New Yorker, has rolled up a liberal record as representative of the 17th Congressional District in Manhattan.

Lindsay, who refused to support Barry Goldwater for president, was re-elected last year by more than 90,000 votes. President Johnson carried the same district by more than 70,000 votes.

The first Atlantic cable was completed by Cyrus W. Field in 1858.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Work Done Fast Can Result In Errors

Now and then, in this column, we have considered problems of the youngster who never finishes his written work there unless the teacher "stands right over him." Often he may be daydreaming then or doing something else. He may not have learned to work at what other children are doing. He may have writing or spelling difficulty. There may be all sorts of other reasons, some of which we have discussed.

Dr. Garry Myers

Some of these slowpokes in the classroom may be overwhelmed by what seems to them as an atmosphere of hurry, and may feel hopelessly discouraged. Among the children who don't finish short written assignments at school are some who earnestly try to do so but are unable to go as fast as most other children.

Suppose the teacher is pronouncing a list of words to spell or is dictating sentences containing words to be spelled. Often she may go on to the next word or sentence before nearly all the children have had time to write the last one.

HAVING observed in hundreds of classrooms over the years, it is my guess that the average teacher goes far too fast with such exercises. These children who can't keep up have all sorts of worries and anxieties. Naturally they can't be very careful at writing neatly and legibly then.

Moreover, as many standardized tests have time limits, the teacher imitating them may often set brief time limits for all sorts of written work. Although "stop-watch" procedures in the classrom may not be as prevalent as twenty years ago, I'm sure there is still far too much of it. Too often the pupil supposes it is better to be rapid than to be right.

Also, when pupils in the grades or at the secondary level are set to writing compositions, so much emphasis is placed on quantity (length) and so little on quality, that they naturally feel obliged to hurry.

INCIDENTALLY, I have often wondered why so many teachers in the upper grades and high school expect pupils and students to prepare papers of such great length. These require long time and effort to write and the longer they are the less carefully, as a rule, they are evaluated by the teacher. Better a composition of one or five hundred words than one of 1500 to 2000. In college what is the sense of the great length of most papers that are required?

When at home you wish to practice your child in the grades to write, spell, or do number problems you dicate, please proceed slowly and reveal calmness in your voice and ways. Avoid the suggestion of time limits. The more your child is hurried at school the more you should try to help him go slowly and carefully in his written work at home.

IF IN the grades he is supposed at school to read or cipher faster than he does, don't suppose you can cause him to work faster at school by hurrying him at home. Help him there to read for meaning and to spell and cipher with accuracy.

Then more speed will inevitably result.

My bulletins, "The Slowpoke," "Helping Your Child Succeed at School," and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Rep. Lindsay To Seek New York Mayor Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. John V. Lindsay, supported by top Republican leaders, was expected to announce today his candidacy for mayor against three-time Democratic Mayor Robert F. Wagner in next November's election.

Lindsay, 43, a native New Yorker, has rolled up a liberal record as representative of the 17th Congressional District in Manhattan.

Lindsay, who refused to support Barry Goldwater for president, was re-elected last year by more than 90,000 votes. President Johnson carried the same district by more than 70,000 votes.

The first Atlantic cable was completed by Cyrus W. Field in 1858.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Work Done Fast Can Result In Errors

Now and then, in this column, we have considered problems of the youngster who never finishes his written work there unless the teacher "stands right over him." Often he may be daydreaming then or doing something else. He may not have learned to work at what other children are doing. He may have writing or spelling difficulty. There may be all sorts of other reasons, some of which we have discussed.

Dr. Garry Myers

Some of these slowpokes in the classroom may be overwhelmed by what seems to them as an atmosphere of hurry, and may feel hopelessly discouraged. Among the children who don't finish short written assignments at school are some who earnestly try to do so but are unable to go as fast as most other children.

Suppose the teacher is pronouncing a list of words to spell or is dictating sentences containing words to be spelled. Often she may go on to the next word or sentence before nearly all the children have had time to write the last one.

HAVING observed in hundreds of classrooms over the years, it is my guess that the average teacher goes far too fast with such exercises. These children who can't keep up have all sorts of worries and anxieties. Naturally they can't be very careful at writing neatly and legibly then.

Moreover, as many standardized tests have time limits, the teacher imitating them may often set brief time limits for all sorts of written work. Although "stop-watch" procedures in the classrom may not be as prevalent as twenty years ago, I'm sure there is still far too much of it. Too often the pupil supposes it is better to be rapid than to be right.

Also, when pupils in the grades or at the secondary level are set to writing compositions, so much emphasis is placed on quantity (length) and so little on quality, that they naturally feel obliged to hurry.

INCIDENTALLY, I have often wondered why so many teachers in the upper grades and high school expect pupils and students to prepare papers of such great length. These require long time and effort to write and the longer they are the less carefully, as a rule, they are evaluated by the teacher. Better a composition of one or five hundred words than one of 1500 to 2000. In college what is the sense of the great length of most papers that are required?

When at home you wish to practice your child in the grades to write, spell, or do number problems you dicate, please proceed slowly and reveal calmness in your voice and ways. Avoid the suggestion of time limits. The more your child is hurried at school the more you should try to help him go slowly and carefully in his written work at home.

IF IN the grades he is supposed at school to read or cipher faster than he does, don't suppose you can cause him to work faster at school by hurrying him at home. Help him there to read for meaning and to spell and cipher with accuracy.

Then more speed will inevitably result.

My bulletins, "The Slowpoke," "Helping Your Child Succeed at School," and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Memorial To Kennedy Will Be Unveiled Friday

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II will unveil Friday Britain's memorial to John F. Kennedy at historic Runnymede where 750 years ago the barons forced King John to sign the Magna Carta.

The memorial stands on hallowed ground. Britain's present-day personal and political freedoms are based on the Magna Carta.

Runnymede, a low-lying meadowland beside the River Thames, is 21 miles west of London.

The queen will dedicate the memorial as the president's widow and the two Kennedy children, Caroline, 7, and John F. Jr., 4, look on.

A London newspaper, the Sun, said that when someone in the United States said to Mrs. Kennedy that surely she would not be taking the children to London, she replied:

"Why not? This is a solemn occasion and I want them to share it."

Included on the guest list for the unveiling are Sens. Robert F. and Edward M. Kennedy, and their sisters, Mrs. Peter Lawford and Mrs. Stephen Smith.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk — who arrived in London Wednesday to attend the ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — will represent President Johnson.

The ceremonies will begin at 1 p.m. with a musical program played by the band of the Irish Guards.

The queen — accompanied by her husband, Prince Philip — will arrive at 2 p.m. and be met by Mrs. Kennedy. They will then walk across the grass, through a wicket gate and up a path to the memorial, a block of Portland stone on a granite plinth, a paved terrace and two symbolic stone seats for contemplation.

The stone bears these words of Kennedy at his inauguration:

"Let every nation know that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, support any friend or oppose any foe, to assure the survival, and success of liberty."

The British government and individual Britons hope to raise $2.8 million for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund. It now totals $2.38 million.

Income from the fund is expected to send 10 British students to the United States each year for study at Harvard, Radcliffe or Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The chief speakers at the ceremony will be former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, 71, at whose Sussex residence Kennedy stayed when he visited Britain in June, 1963; Prime Minister Harold Wilson; the queen, and Rusk.

The ceremony will end at 2:40 p.m. with the playing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" followed by "God Save the Queen."

As the guests file away, the pipes and drums of the Irish Guards will play "Flowers of the Forest."

Mrs. Kennedy, with Caroline and John, will then journey to Windsor Castle to have tea with the queen. Other members of the Kennedy family also have been invited.

Pre-School Registration Set At Newell

Pre-school registration will be conducted at Jefferson School in Newell Friday from 2 until 3:30 p.m., Ernest John, principal, announced today.

Registration will take place in Room 103. Those arriving early may begin at 1:30, John said, and anyone arriving late may register following the tea, which will be served by the PTA in the lower corridor following a program in the library.

Mrs. Albert Logston, Hancock County school nurse, will explain health requirements for beginning children and Franklin Hooper, speech therapist, will discuss the county's speech program.

Parents of children who will be 6 years of age prior to next Nov. 1 are urged to attend the meeting and to bring the child's birth certificate and immunization card.

Pupils who have not received vaccinations and immunizations by the end of the first month of school will not be permitted to remain in school, John emphasized.

Took $400,000 At Mother's Bidding

Girl Fights Extradition After Robbing Father

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Charged with stealing $400,000 from her father at her mother's bidding, the brilliant daughter of a wealthy Greenville manufacturer is fighting extradition to South Carolina.

Mary Jane Hollingsworth Farrell, 19, whose IQ is 183, surrendered to authorities in Miami, Fla, Wednesday but refused to waive extradition.

Mrs. Farrell, a graduate of the University of Miami at the age of 16, is charged with housebreaking and grand larceny in the tangled case.

Solicitor (prosecutor) B.O. Thomason Jr. said the total amount taken from an executive restroom at the John D. Hollingsworth plant April 6, 1964, was around $400,000 but "may reach $550,000." None of it has been recovered.

Her mother, Eula Bennett Hollingsworth, is charged with housebreaking, grand larceny and conspiracy. She is free on $15,000 bond and is in a Greenville hospital listed only as a "medical patient."

Both women were implicated in the theft by Jeffrey Bruce Farrell, 21, in Greenville General Sessions Court Monday. He pleaded guilty to the theft and received a five-year prison term, suspended to four years probation.

Farrell testified Mrs. Hollingsworth, estranged from her husband since January of 1964, had promised him $100,000 to carry out the theft but paid him only $6,000. He said she supplied him with keys to the Hollingsworth plant and Mrs. Farrell, his sister-in-law, accompanied him.

Another woman involved in the case, Theodosia Kuper, was to be served today in Greenville with a warrant charging her as an accessory after the fact. Until recently, she was associated with a Protestant missionary office in El Monte, Mexico.

J. P. Strom, chief of the South Carolina State Law Enforcement Division, quoted Mrs. Kuper as saying she kept the six or seven bags of money a short while after the theft. He quoted her as saying she received $5,000 and a kiss on the cheek from Mrs. Hollingsworth.

Philip Madina, who was Farrell's lawyer and now is representing Mary Jane Farrell, challenged the charges of a theft at the closely guarded textle machinery plant.

Madina cited a partnership suit Mrs. Hollingsworth filed against her husband after their separation and noted the theft of the money was not reported until this past January, months after the alleged burglary.

Thomason said the partnership suit was terminated but admitted Hollingsworth did not report the theft of $400,000 until January. A camera, papers and other vaulables were the only items reported stolen after the April burglary.

Judge FacesTough Problem With Deaf Mute Arsonist, 15

CLEVELAND (AP)—"This is the most perplexing problem I have ever faced," said Juvenile Court Judge Angelo J. Gagliardo. ". . .at the moment, there is no solution."

The problem: What to do with a 15-year-old deaf mute who is an arsonist?

"He sits in a totally silent world of his own, drawing and painting," said the judge. "His compositions are of buildings on fire."

The boy can communicate only with his mother "and this is just on a limited basis," the judge said. He described her as "physically and emotionally exhausted."

Judge Gagliardo had two choices: Either send him to the Fairfield School for Boys in Lancaster, Ohio, or send him back home.

The boy was released to his parents Wednesday.

The judge explained his choice: "I couldn't in good conscience send him to Fairfield. Those gangsters down there would tear him apart. But now I have to sit, biting my fingernails hoping that he does not burn down someone's home."

Because past treatments have failed, including a tutoring period, Judge Gagliardo said, "The boy will be a complete social cripple for the rest of his life. And each day that goes by his condition will become worse, and progressively harder to treat."

The boy first appeared in court for setting fire to a barn.

There was a period of progress during the tutoring by a teacher doing graduate work, "but now she is gone, too," the judge said.

Teacher's Sued By Parents For 'Scolding' Pupils

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—How much does it hurt a teenage girl to get a severe—and allegedly profane—bawling out from the teacher for giggling in high school choir practice?

About $250,000 worth, say fathers of Christina Sotera, 16 and Cynthia DiSiena, 15, in damage suits filed Wednesday in Lake County Common Pleas Court against Michael Lenenski, Wickliffe High School music teacher. Each suit asks $250,000.

The suits said, "The girls were held up to ridicule by their classmates and caused grievous mental sufferings" because Lenenski stopped choir practice and "intentionally and maliciously called out profane language" because the girls giggled.

Lenenski was described by Superintendent Gerald Michel as a prize teacher with a fine music program.

Killebrew's 2nd Circuit Blast Nips Angels, Keeps Twins First

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Red Sox Blank Yanks, 2-0

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

That was no pop-gun Harmon Killebrew used on the Angels the second time around.

The Minnesota slugger beat Los Angeles 4-3 Wednesday night with his second home run of the game, a 450-foot two-run shot in the eighth inning. The night before he had given the Twins a 3-2 victory over the Angels by caroming a drive off pitcher Dean Chance's leg in the ninth to send home the winning run.

The victory, fifth straight for the Twins and 16th in 23 starts this year, kept them in first place in the young American League race, one-half game ahead of the Chicago White Sox, who swept a twi-night doubleheader from Kansas City 7-4 and 6-4. Boston blanked the New York Yankees 2-0, Detroit topped Washington 5-2 and Baltimore beat Cleveland 4-2 in other night action.

Killebrew's decisive homer off Angel reliever Bob Lee cleared the center-field fence, scored Frank Kostro, who had walked, and pulled the Twins from behind. Killebrew had ripped a left-field circuit clout off rookie southpaw Rudy Mya, the Angels' starter, in the sixth.

The homers were the fourth and fifth for Harmon in his last 11 games after an anemic start.

Killebrew led the majors with 49 homers last year and has led the league three straight seasons.

Los Angeles built a 3-2 edge going into the eighth on Albie Pearson's first-inning homer, Jose Cardenal's third-inning sacrifice fly and a run-scoring single by Joe Adcock — the 1,700th major league hit for the veteran first baseman — in the sixth. Jerry Kindall singled home the first Minnesota run in the third.

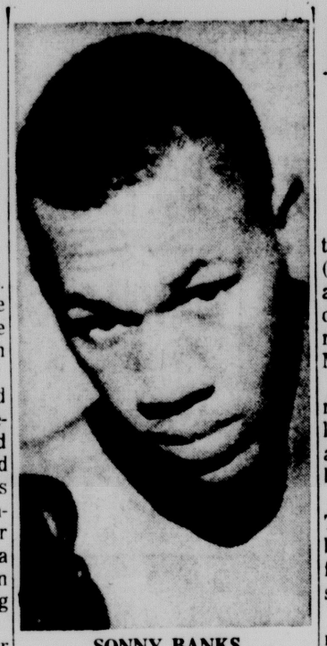
Pete Ward's two-run homer in the seventh inning of the Chicago-Kansas City opener put the White Sox ahead to stay 5-4. Dick Green had put the A's on top with a grand-slam homer in the fifth.

Don Buford, who also homered for the Sox in the first game, singled in one run and Floyd Robinson's pop-fly single delivered another in a sixth-inning rally that decided the nightcap. The Kansas City runs came on a three-run homer by Jim Gentile and Bill Bryan's solo shot.

Bill Monbouquette stopped New York on six hits and shortstop Eddie Bressoud hit a fifth-inning home run as the Red Sox beat Yankee ace Jim Bouton. Frank Malzone collected three of the five Boston hits and Lee Thomas singled in the other run in the sixth.

Willie Horton, who had wrecked Washington the previous night with a home run and game-winning single, collected another homer and two singles to lead the Tigers past the Senators. Horton hit his fifth homer in the fourth inning, scored a run in the sixth and drove in another with an eighth-inning single.

Paul Blair's leadoff homer ignited a four-run, first-inning rally for Baltimore after Cleveland had scored twice in the top of the first. Dave McNally checked the Indians on two singles the rest of the way for his first victory of the season.



SONNY BANKS
Claimed By Ring Injury.

Fighter Is Dead Of Head Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detroit heavyweight boxer Lucien (Sonny) Banks died today from a head injury. He was knocked out Monday night in the ninth round of a fight with Leotis Martin of Philadelphia.

Banks, 24 regained consciousness after the fight, but then lapsed into unconsciousness again and was rushed to Presbyterian Hospital.

Brain surgery was performed Tuesday morning to remove a blood clot and the 207-pound fighter had been in a coma ever since.

Banks' younger brother, Jimmy, had come to Philadelphia from Detroit. Two other brothers and his parents, who live in Tupelo, Miss., survive.

Dr. Robert S. Andre, a Philadelphia neurosurgeon who performed the operation, ruled out the finishing punch as a direct cause of the subdural hematoma, or clot, in Banks' brain. He said the injury looked as though the boxer had been in an auto crash.

Banks worked at a Ford Mous head injury through boxing, although he had suffered four knockouts in 27 fights. He had won 16 of his fights with knockouts and six others with decisions.

Banks worked at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Detroit.

Pennsylvania State Athletic Commissioner Frank Wildman said earlier no investigation of the fight was planned.

"Both Banks and Martin were in excellent condition; the bout was conducted in the proper manner; the referee was alert; nothing occurred before the knockout to suggest any lack of care or supervision," said Wildman.

Martin could not immediately be reached for comment.

Debonair Is Questionable Starter

Leg Injury May Scratch Derby Star

BALTIMORE (AP) — Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair became a questionable starter today in the 90th running of the Preakness at Pimlico Saturday when he turned up with a slight injury in his right hind leg.

"I am entering the horse," said trainer Frank Catrone after talking with his owner, Mrs. Ada L. Rice, in Chicago. "We'll have to wait on developments to see if he will start."

Catrone said the horse apparently nicked himself in a gallop Wednesday and this morning there was a swelling just over the ankle in the right hind leg.

The veteran trainer said he would not consider the injury serious, but the horse was too valuable to take any chances and he would await developments before deciding definitely if the colt will be in the lineup Saturday.

Dapper Dan, owned by Ogden Phipps, lost some of his luster Wednesday when he loafed through a seven-furlong workout in 1:33. Trainer Bill Winfrey explained the slow work with "Dapper Dan often does things like that. He does what he wants to do, when he wants to and that's all there is to it."

Raymond Guest's Tom Rolfe, with trainer Frank Whiteley refusing to say until the last minute whether he would be a Preakness starter, and Albert Warner's Native Charger, winner of the Flamingo and Florida Derby, were closely bunched behind in pre-race calculations. Tom Rolfe finished third in the Derby and Native Charger fourth.

Arkansas Derby winner Swift Ruler, seventh in the Derby; Hail to All, a stretch runner who was fifth in the Derby; Selari, winner of his last two starts, and Needles Count, victor in the Preakness Prep, round out the probable field.

Bret Hanover Races To 26th Straight Win

YOKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Bret Hanover, harness racing's latest wonder horse with a perfect 26-for-26 record, seems to have pacing's Triple Crown at his mercy.

After his easy 3½-length victory in the $125,236 Cane Futurity Pace at Yonkers Raceway Wednesday night, competent horsemen agreed that the robust bay colt is far superior to his contemporary 3-year-old pacers.

That means no one expects him to have any trouble winning the Triple Crown by taking the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio, and the Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway. The Cane was the first leg of the Triple.

Veteran Frank Ervin drove the colt in a 2:01 mile for owner Richard Downing of Shaker Heights, Ohio.

Bobby T. Knight finished second in the nine-horse field followed, in order, by Scarlet Wave, Gee Lee Hanover, High Level, Steady Move, Sykes Hanover, Tarport Prince and Adios Vic.

Colitis Attack Fatal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dapper Delegate, winner of the Louisiana Derby at the New Orleans Fair Grounds last March and a prime contender for the Kentucky Derby before he was withdrawn due to illness, died Wednesday night at New York's Aqueduct stables.

Springfield Nine Edges Beavers In Final Inning

Springfield Local of Jefferson County scored three runs in the seventh inning to nip Beaver Local, 5-4, Wednesday on the Beaver diamond.

Manson singled in the winning run with two out in the seventh inning. The run came off Dennis Horger who had relieved starter Jack Myler. Horger was credited with the loss.

Beaver Local took a 3-0 lead in the second inning featured by a two - run homer off the bat of Dennis Klembara. The Beavers scored again in the fourth and held a 4-1 lead before Springfield tallied once in the fifth and three times in the final frame.

Rick Deringer also clouted a solo home run for the Beavers.

Carol was the winning pitcher after relieving Prissyballa in the third inning.

Beaver Local now shows a 6-5 record and play at Springfield Local of Mahoning County today.

Howard Feels Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Elston Howard, the New York Yankees All-Star catcher, was in a chipper mood today following his release from the hospital after surgery for the removal of bone chips from his right elbow.

Beaver Local took a 3-0 lead in the second inning featured by a two - run homer off the bat of Dennis Klembara. The Beavers scored again in the fourth and held a 4-1 lead before Springfield tallied once in the fifth and three times in the final frame.

Rick Deringer also clouted a solo home run for the Beavers.

Carol was the winning pitcher after relieving Prissyballa in the third inning.

Beaver Local now shows a 6-5 record and play at Springfield Local of Mahoning County today.

Braves Leave Bucs In Cellar, 5-4

Reds Defeat Phillies, 4-3; Dodgers Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

A couple of years ago the only thing slim about Joe Torre was his chances of making the majors.

Now, however, the only thing fat about the Milwaukee catcher is his batting average and the offer the Braves turned down for his services.

Torre lifted his average to .347 Wednesday night with a homer and a single, helping Milwaukee to a 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh while continuing to show why the Braves refused the New York Mets' offer to buy him for $500,000.

As a teen-ager with his eyes on the majors, Torre was in jeopardy of being overlooked by major league scouts, which would have been quite an accomplishment since he weighed 240 pounds and lacked speed.

Speed of foot still isn't Torre's main dish, but it's hard to fault a guy who trimmed his weight to 205 and last season lifted his average to .321 with 20 homers and 109 runs batted in. And this year's current .347 average goes along with seven homers and 14 RBI.

While Torre was continuing his heavy hitting, Ron Santo belted a homer and two singles in the Chicago Cubs' 7-3 walloping of San Francisco, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 4-3, the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated Houston 4-2 and the New York Mets downed St. Louis 2-1.

Torre hit his homer in the fourth inning against the Pirates, pulling the Braves into a 2-2 tie they cracked with a three-run seventh-inning uprising.

Santo was the big gun for the Cubs, rapping three of the five Chicago hits off Giant ace Juan Marichal in the seven innings he worked. Marichal lost his third game against five victories as San Francisco committed four errors behind him.

The Reds broke through against the Phillies, who had tied the score 2-2 on Richie Allen's homer, with a two-run seventh-inning comeback triggered by Tommy Harper's triple. A walk to Frank Robinson, Gordie Coleman's sacrifice fly and a double by Deron Johnson wrapped it up. Sammy Ellis got the victory for a 5-0 record with Jim O'Toole's relief help.

Don Drysdale limited the Astros to six hits, including Walt Bond's homer in the ninth, while Ron Fairly provided the decisive blow for the Dodgers with a two-run single in the third inning that broke a 1-1 tie. Jim Lefebvre chipped in with a homer for Los Angeles.

Jack Fisher checked the Cardinals on five hits and outdueled Curt Simmons for the Mets' triumph. Simmons absorbed his fourth loss in five decisions when Ron Swoboda walked in the seventh inning and scored on a double by Bobby Klaus. The Cardinals had pulled into a tie in their half on Ken Boyer's homer.

West Virginia Nine Defeats Pitt, 5 To 2

PITTSBURGH (AP) — West Virginia, on the strength of a three-run sixth inning, defeated Pitt's baseball forces Wednesday 5-2.

A triple by Jan Withrow and singles by Chuck Boggs and Bob Munchin broke a 2-2 tie.

The victory gave WVU an overall mark of 17 and seven for the season.

Pitt's record is 12 and two.

Nicklaus, Rodriguez Favored At N. Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jack's Pack and Chi Chi's Banditos collide today as the $100,000 greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament gets under way with the beefy Ohioan and the pint-sized Puerto Rican playing in the same threesome.

Masters champ Jack Nicklaus is the 6-1 choice to win the rich tourney at the plush 6,500-yard Lakewood Country Club course, but a number of the pros say Chi Chi Rodriguez is the man to beat.

The 5-foot-7 Rodriguez, who weighs a mere 120 pounds, is on a hot streak and has finished high in the tourneys preceding this one.

At the rain-plagued Colonial National Invitational, which wound up Tuesday, Chi Chi tied for third with three others.

The pluckish Latin chatters constantly with the gallery while playing and some of the other pros complain about it. Not so with Nicklaus, who will play with Chi Chi and tour regular Rod Funseth both today and Friday.

"It doesn't bother me," said Nicklaus. "In fact, I find he keeps me loose."

Chi Chi has earned $12,315 so far this year on the tour and put on a blazing stretch drive just two weeks ago in the Tournament of Champions and nearly caught up with Arnold Palmer.

Arnie's army will be here too, as Palmer renews his rivalry with Nicklaus for the fairways crown. A victory for Palmer here would pull him much closer to Nicklaus in the earnings list. Nicklaus with $34,400 in official money, has won twice as much as Palmer.

Mets Expect Little From Hunt This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets expect little, if any, help from Ron Hunt, their hard-luck All-Star second baseman, for the remainder of the National League baseball season.

While Hunt convalesced today following a successful 1½-hour operation on his dislocated left shoulder, the club waited for Chuck Hiller, acquired from San Francisco Wednesday as a second base replacement, to arrive in New York.

Mets physician Dr. Peter L. Motte, who operated on Hunt Wednesday, said the 24-year-old infielder would be sidelined for at least three months and possibly for the rest of the season.

Hunt, chosen the Mets' most valuable player in 1963 and 1964, led the team in hitting last year with a .303 average.

Jay Trump, winner of the Grand National Steeplechase in England, was foaled at Pistorio Farm near Elkridge, Md.

Third Time's Charm For Fisherman, 78

KINGMAN, Kan. (AP) — Jim Mills of Hutchinson, Kan., had to catch a five - pound catfish three times before he landed it.

Mills caught the fish on Kingman Lake but the line broke before he could pull it in.

Mills, 78, grabbed the broken line with the fish on it and pulled it in. As he held it up for his wife to see the fish flipped off and back into the lake.

Mills jumped into the water, grabbed the fish with his bare hands and carried it well ashore —for keeps.

Baseball Attendance Shows Increase Over Last Season

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance for the first month of the 1965 season was up 5.4 per cent over last year, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

The survey through Tuesday's games also reflected continued fan apathy in Milwaukee and Kansas City plus a resurgence in Houston where the Astros are playing in their new, enclosed stadium.

The Braves, committed to play in Atlanta next year, have averaged only 2,826 paid in their last 11 home appearances. Coupled with an opening-game turnstile count of 33,874 the total is 64,957. Last season, when they finished with an aggregate of 910,000, Milwaukee averaged 11,500 for the first 12 home dates.

Kansas City has averaged only 6,700 for 11 home dates. The aggregate of 74,405 is 16,425 under last season. The A's had the lowest home attendance in either major league in 1964 — 642,478.

The Astros have attracted 288,052 for 11 appearances in the 45,000-seat Astrodome for an average attendance of 26,000. In the 32,601-seat Colts Stadium a year ago the Houston club averaged 10,500 for the same number of dates.

The over-all big league attendance is 3,018,591 compared to 2,862,622 in the same number of 1964 dates. The National League shows an increase of 105,715 and the American is up 50,254.

City Loses Street, It's Kissing Lane

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The city of Richmond has lost a street.

During a check on the history of a right of way Wednesday it was discovered the city has only 2,599 streets instead of 2,600.

The missing street is Kissing Lane.

Chalkley DuVal, assistant works director, promises to locate it.

Lee Weyer of the National League is believed to be the largest umpire in major league history. He stands 6-foot-6 and weighs 230 pounds.

Youth On Skateboard Gets Traffic Citation

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The law is very clear.

It says any person operating any type of conveyance in the city streets is subject to traffic regulations.

That's why Thomas L. Tobiason, 20, got a citation.

Patrolman Dean Murphy says the University of Washington student ran a stop sign while riding his skateboard.

Baseball Attendance Shows Increase Over Last Season

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball attendance for the first month of the 1965 season was up 5.4 per cent over last year, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

The survey through Tuesday's games also reflected continued fan apathy in Milwaukee and Kansas City plus a resurgence in Houston where the Astros are playing in their new, enclosed stadium.

The Braves, committed to play in Atlanta next year, have averaged only 2,826 paid in their last 11 home appearances. Coupled with an opening-game turnstile count of 33,874 the total is 64,957. Last season, when they finished with an aggregate of 910,000, Milwaukee averaged 11,500 for the first 12 home dates.

Kansas City has averaged only 6,700 for 11 home dates. The aggregate of 74,405 is 16,425 under last season. The A's had the lowest home attendance in either major league in 1964 — 642,478.

The Astros have attracted 288,052 for 11 appearances in the 45,000-seat Astrodome for an average attendance of 26,000. In the 32,601-seat Colts Stadium a year ago the Houston club averaged 10,500 for the same number of dates.

The over-all big league attendance is 3,018,591 compared to 2,862,622 in the same number of 1964 dates. The National League shows an increase of 105,715 and the American is up 50,254.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The city of Richmond has lost a street.

Youth On Skateboard Gets Traffic Citation

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The law is very clear.

It says any person operating any type of conveyance in the city streets is subject to traffic regulations.

That's why Thomas L. Tobiason, 20, got a citation.

Patrolman Dean Murphy says the University of Washington student ran a stop sign while riding his skateboard.

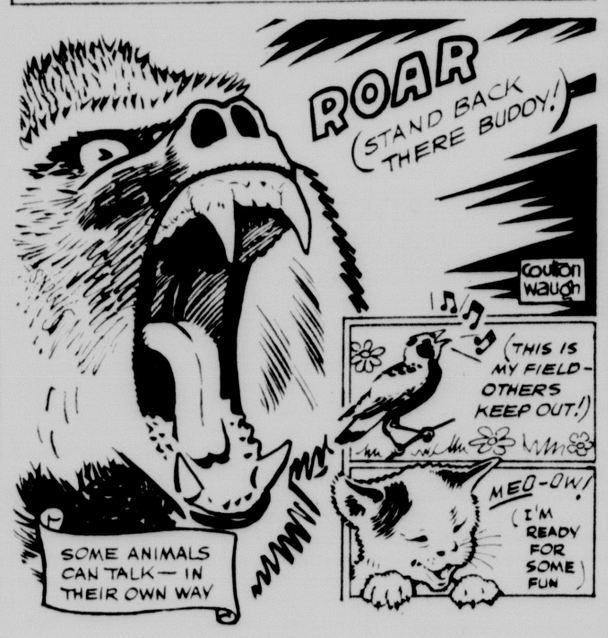
A Junior Editors Quiz About ANIMAL TALK



QUESTION: Can animals talk?

ANSWER: We all know that animals don't talk in the sense that we do; that is, they don't exchange ideas by a system of spoken words. Yet the dictionaries also define talk as communicating by any means. In this sense, many animals certainly do talk, for there is no doubt that they can communicate with each other by means of different sounds. The male baboon in our picture, for example, is not letting out a fierce roar just for the fun of it. He is telling some threatening cheetah or leopard to keep away from his pack, if the big cat knows what is good for him. We often mistake the meaning of animal sounds. A bird may look so happy on a June morning that we imagine he just has to sing. No doubt the bird is happy, but when birds sing during the nesting season, they are really warning other birds to keep off their territory. Recently, careful studies have been made of the behavior of some of the large apes. It has been found that they have a surprisingly large number of different sounds to express certain feelings like satisfaction, annoyance, friendliness or hatred. The gorilla has a vocabulary of 22 such sounds. The chimpanzee ranks as the top talker with 23.

Highway Across Southern Ohio Given Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Appalachian Regional Commission, set up by Congress to administer the federal Appalachia Program, has approved construction of a highway across Southern Ohio.

A spokesman for the Ohio Department of Development said Wednesday night the corridor approved by the joint federal-state commission follows Ohio 32 eastward out of Cincinnati to Sardinia; from there runs due east through Jackson County; then turns northeastward to Athens; and slightly southeastward along U.S. 50, then east to Belpre.

He explained that not all of the exact route of the highway has been set and that the corridor can be as wide as 50 miles.

The Ohio highway project was part of 992 miles of highway construction approved in nine of the states sharing in the Appalachia program.

Male monkeys make affectionate fathers, even though most do not practice monogamy. A monkey troupe's dominant male usually serves as general father to all the youngsters. He guards them against abuse and will adopt any infant abandoned by its mother.

The first anaesthetic, sulphuric ether gas, was used by Dr. Crawford W. Long in 1842 at Jefferson, Ga.
